Brown Vetoes Vote of Censure Railroad Heads Abandon Hope

Mayor Vetoes Council's Vote of Censure Passed Upon Him Relative to Packard Car

ORDERS ARE ALSO VETOED

Packard Car Paid for Two Hours Before Vetoes Were Filed

Whatever Action City Council May Take Will Have No Effect

Mayor George H. Brown today vetoed the vote of censure passed upon his method of procedure in the purchase of a Packard touring car, by the city council at its meeting on July 6.

He also vetoed the order authorizing the city clerk to engage counsel to file injunction proceedings on behalf of the council to prevent the purchase price of the car being paid, and another order, through which the city auditor was directed not to prepare a check for the payment of the car until the matter was presented to him in legal form.

However, at least two hours before the veto was made, the Packard touring car had been paid for by the City of Lowell, when a check in the amount of $3885, made out in the name of Alvan C. Fuller, lieutenant governor of the commonwealth, and president of the Packard Motor Car Co. of New England, was presented to the city treasurer's office.

An order to pay this amount was presented to the city treasurer's office by City Auditor Daniel E. Martin, acting upon the contents of an opinion rendered by him on the matter by Solicitor Edward J. Tierney.

The actual payment of the bill seems to have been made by the city, but the two orders which relate to it hanging in the air by a thin thread. They go back to the council, of course, and to be consistent, that body will have to pass them again over the veto.

Other than having the effect of placing the council on record as in opposition to the purchase and payment of the car, it will have little, if any, significance or effect. The car has been paid for, that is the answer.

To get back to the vote of censure for a moment, the mayor did not care for it very much, and after so expressing himself and saying that he did not think it was justified, he decorated it with his stamp of disapproval.

What will the council do with it? Pass it over the veto? If so, the mayor stands censured.

SOME KICK IN THE RHUBARB WINE THAT WAS SERVED MR. BROWN

Man from Rhode Island, Arrested in Merrimack Square Yesterday, Released in District Court Today—Said Rhubarb Wine and High Blood Pressure Was Responsible for His Trouble Yesterday and the Judge Believed Him

One small glass of rhubarb wine, combined with a blood pressure of 324, was the cause of Joseph R. Brown's collision with another car in Merrimack square yesterday afternoon and his subsequent apprehension by Traffic Supervisor Edward Connor, being booked at police headquarters for drunkenness and operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. This was the story told to Judge Fisher in district court today, and it provided sufficient reason for Brown's release.

According to Brown's story, brought out under the questioning of his attorney, he had not taken a drink in 20 years until yesterday. Engaged as an insurance agent in Concord, N. H., he journeyed to Methuen, Mass., yesterday, where, he stated, he held a conference with the chief of the fire department.

CANDIDATES FILE PAPERS

Three Representative Districts Are Being Turned Into Battle Grounds

Thomas J. Corbett Took Out Nomination Papers Today—List of Candidates

With the final date for filing nomination papers only one month away, the three representative districts that embrace all the Lowell wards are rapidly being turned into battle grounds. Candidates have appeared in rapid succession of late, particularly the 16th, where six men already have tossed their hats into the circle to fight for the place now held by Rep. Thomas J. Corbett.

Mr. Corbett, himself, took out nomination papers today. This is the smallest district of the three, comprising Wards 4 and 5.

The 14th district—Wards 1, 2 and 3—has seven avowed candidates for two positions. Representatives Charles H. Slowsky and Owen Brennan are the present incumbents and the former has taken out papers for re-nomination and re-election.

The 15th district, which takes in Wards 6, 7 and 8, has Representatives Jewett and Ashlin and three others already in the field for the three posts to be filled.

Adelard Berard, the third representative from this district, is not payable in the ordinary course of events until the 15th of August.

The city auditor also has requested an opinion from Mr. Tierney on this matter and expects to have it in hand on Monday.

THE MERRIMACK RIVER QUESTION

Project Discussed Last Night at Merrimack Valley Country Club Meeting

Congressman Rogers Says River Development is Worth While Project

With Congressman John Jacob Rogers of this city as the principal speaker, representatives of six Merrimack valley cities—Lowell, Lawrence, Haverhill, Methuen, Amesbury and Newburyport—met last night at the Merrimack Valley Country Club in Methuen to discuss the project of making the river navigable from Lowell to the sea, despite the adverse report of the board of army engineers as submitted by Col. Willing.

The meeting was called as the result of an understanding after the conference, or hearing, to be held in Washington in June had been postponed until some date in the fall and co-operating were the city government and chambers of commerce of the six cities.

A dinner, served at 6:30 o'clock, was followed by the real purpose of the meeting.

THREE INJURED IN EXPLOSION

Lighted Match Ignites Compound Mixture in Canton Factory

Windows and Door Blown Out by Blast Which Arouses Town

CANTON, July 15.—Three men, one in a serious condition, are in the hospital at Norwood as the result of an explosion in the compounding building of the Grow Tire company at Canton Junction at about midnight.

They are: John P. Danlot, Stoughton, serious, general burns, face heavily injured; John McGowan, Hyde Park, burns, face, arms, legs; George Chuck, Canton, burns, face and arms, numerous cuts.

All of the injured were new men at the works. One of the men went into a section of the compounding room searching for material and unable to locate it, electric light was lighted, a match, igniting the vapor from the compound, a mixture of 90 per cent gasoline and 10 per cent rubber.

The blast blew out the roof and windows. A fire alarm was sounded and the injured men were hurried to Norwood after first aid by Dr. W. P. Lucas. The company says the property damage is not heavy.

CENTRAL STREET CLOSED SUNDAY

Central street, between Market and Hurd streets, will be closed all vehicular traffic from midnight tonight until early Monday morning to allow rapid construction of the canal bridge. Electric cars will use one rail as they now are doing and the sidewalk on The Strand side will be kept open.

The Runnels Construction company will put a large gang of men on the job during the 24-hour period and it is believed that their street will be ready for traffic when business begins Monday.

Executives Prepare to Open Shops With Non-Union Help—Mails Moved By Autos

Boston & Maine Car Shop Strikers Hold Monster Meeting On South Common

The biggest mass meeting ever held on the South common took place last night when close to 10,000 men and women gathered around the bandstand to listen to addresses by labor leaders, the topic of discussion being the reasons for the strike at the Boston & Maine car shops in Billerica.

The meeting took place immediately at the close of the Twilight League baseball game and was preceded by a concert given by a picked band of 20 musicians under the leadership of T. E. McCarthy.

The musicians are all members of the Lowell Musicians' association and gave their services free of charge.

The principal speaker of the evening was Robert F. McNamara, Boston vice president of the International Association of Machinists, who set forth the reasons for the strike.

McNamara reviewed in brief the actions and deliberations of the federal railroad labor board during the past year, and criticizing the action of President Harding in the present struggle. Other speakers were Edward McMullan of the Boilermakers' union, Parker F. Murphy of the Trades and Labor Council, and Thomas F. Goiding of the federated crafts.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. Goiding, who in his opening remarks explained the purpose of the gathering and said if the strike is lost it will mean the breaking of the backbone of the American Federation of Labor.

He said the fight was that of the public in general as well as that of the employees of the railroads. He urged the public not to pay any attention to the propaganda that is being circulated by railroad officials and said the strike will be won by the strikers for they are in it to the finish.

The latest development in the rail strike situation up to noon today are: White House officials still expressed hope of peace today, despite the apparent failure of railroad labor members to obtain a settlement.

This Musician's Advice Is to Add an "M" to "3 R's"

GENEVE LICHTENWALTER

"We can never become a musical nation until every boy and girl studies music as well as 'readin', 'ritin' and 'rithmetick'."

So says Geneve Lichtenwalter, Kansas City, Mo., winner of the first prize in piano at the School of Music, Fontainebleau, France. She is also a composer of note.

"Systematic study through the grades is the only educational route to a national musical understanding," she continues.

"Our great lack of musical appreciation as a nation comes from two causes, superficiality and showiness of the teacher. The latter is a product of the first."

TO CONVERT SHIP INTO AIRPLANE CARRIER

QUINCY, July 15.—Senator Lodge has assured Mayor Bradford of this city in a telegram that the navy department had sent official notice to the Fore River plant of the Bethlehem Steel corporation to proceed at once to convert the battle cruiser Lexington into an airplane carrier. Construction on this vessel was halted during the Washington arms conference when she was 35 per cent complete.

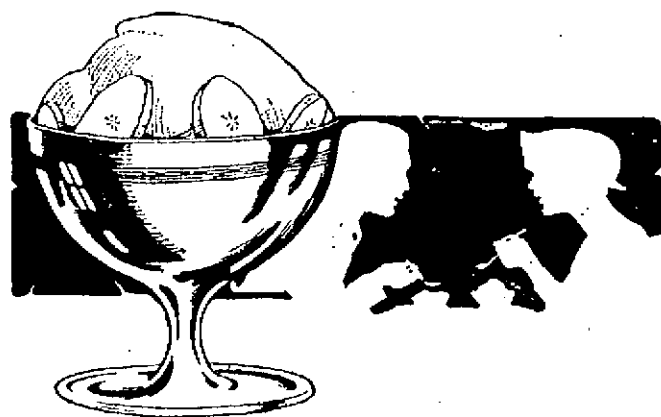

At present there are 2800 men employed at the yards, and it was stated that this order would necessitate the employment of an additional 2000 men who would be kept busy for at least two years.

A NEW SILHOUETTE IS ON THE WAY

Here is a coming fashion in the act of casting its shadow before. Almost imperceptibly it has come about—the armhole has grown much smaller, sleeves are long and thin and ruffle out around the wrists, the bodice is fitted, the skirt full and rippling around the bottom, the neckline is no longer round but square.

Suggestions of this change have reached us for the past two seasons and the shops show summer dresses more and more approaching this silhouette. They are shown especially for girls and young women and are decidedly becoming to youthful faces and figures.

Organdie and Swiss are the favorite materials for dresses of this fashion, since their stiffness makes the new silhouette even more pronounced.

MACKEREL IN JELLY GREAT SUMMER DISH

BY BERTIE E. SHAPIREIGH, Cooking Authority for N.E.A. Service and Columbia University.

During hot weather plan to have fish and meat oftentimes cold instead of hot. The following recipe is very good and hearty enough to be served as the main dish for luncheon or supper. Any fish may be used in the same way:

- 1 two-pound mackerel
- 2 cups cold water
- 1 small piece bay leaf
- 2 slices onion
- 1 sprig parsley
- 2 teaspoons of salt
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 2 tablespoons of granulated gelatin

1/2 cup of cold water
1 cup of sour cream
2 tablespoons grated horseradish
1 tablespoon vinegar
Salt to taste
Cut off head and tail of mackerel and cook in the water with the seasonings, salt and vinegar until tender.

Take from the water, remove skin and bones and separate into small pieces. Strain the liquid remaining and add boiling water to make two cups.

Add the gelatin which has been dissolved in the cold water, season with salt and pepper and allow it to become cool.

As it begins to set add the mackerel and turn into molds which have been dipped in cold water. Set away to harden.

At serving time, unmold on lettuce leaves and serve with the sour cream beaten until stiff, to which has been added the horseradish and seasoning.

SUNDAY AT THE STRAND

A Boston jazz orchestra will accompany the vaudeville act at The Strand on Sunday. This feature, together with the presentation of Constance Talmadge in "Wedding Belles" will surely prove a big attraction at this theatre tomorrow. Apart from unusual quality, there is another consideration in connection with the bill that should serve to attract the crowds, and that is the general comfort and convenience of the patrons. It is always cool and healthful at The Strand. It is worth the price of admission alone to enjoy the comforts that are to be had. The vaudeville features include the Homino Trio, Shirley & Sherwood, Anthony and Evelyn Barutti.

GREENS
All shades of green are going to be fashionable this winter. The newest tones are fern green, dillgreen, green and Moroccan green. The last is an especially soft, deep shade.

COLORS
It is rumored the silk lingerie for fall will not include many novelty colorings and that flesh-colored materials will be the most popular.

WEARS MONOGRAM ON HER SWEATER

One of the latest Paris styles was recently introduced in this country by Mrs. Sylvanus Stokes.

Her stylish sweater costume has a triangular cutout in which her monogram is elaborately woven.

She introduced this costume at Dailys Beach to the fashionable Newport colony.

SHE GETS JOB AS BANK CHIEF

MYRTLE COOPER

The first woman to receive the post of bank manager is Myrtle Cooper of Los Angeles.

She has formally assumed the management of the Citizens Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles.

Telegrams congratulating her upon the appointment were immediately wired by W. J. Fitzwillson, secretary of the American Bankers' association; the National League of Women Voters; the Woman's Suffrage Association and many other national organizations.

Printed and solid embroidered crepes are very fashionable. They lend themselves admirably to draping and require no trimming.

SUIT IS PRACTICAL AND DECORATIVE, TOO

Here is a swimming suit to delight the swimmer who wants a decorative costume as well as a practical one.

The best possible use has been made of some black and white striped wool.

The bathing cap has a good sized roll of rubber of a type hardy enough to weather any storm.

BROWN

More brown is seen as the season advances, and style authorities say it will be one of the leading colors for fall and winter. Just now brown lace is very smart.

SWEATERS

Some of the newest silk sweaters come in with very fine mesh and are heavily embroidered, giving the effect of a blouse rather than a sweater. They have long fringed scarfs to match.

HAND BAGS

Porcelain cashmere hand bags are one of the most recent novelties to reach this side of the water. They are mounted on silver or dark metal.

BOATEAU LINE

The wide boateau neckline which has been used on all types of dresses promises to give way to other varieties. The "V" neck is coming back.

LINGERIE

Paris designers say that the price of lingerie will not go down perceptibly this season as the cost of handwork and materials make this impossible.

CAPE

Capes of camel's hair are highly desirable for summer as they may be used as raincoats as well. They were featured at the recent Ascot races in England.

CHIN COLLARS

Chin collars are being featured on the fur coats now made up for winter instead of the shawl and wide collars so much used last season.

LACE COATS

The newest sweater coats are made of silk lace, woven in patterns resembling coarse chintilly. They come in delicate shades of lavender, blue and pink, and usually are worn with white.

Mrs. Linton Tells How Helpful Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is at This Period

Denver, Colorado.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for seven years and I cannot tell you the good it has done me. It is good for young and old and I always keep a bottle of it in the house, for I am at that time of life when it calls for Lydia E. Pinkham's help. My husband saw your ad. in the papers and said 'You have taken everything you can think of, now I want you to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.' So I let him get it, and I soon felt better and he told me 'I want you to take about six bottles.' So I did and I keep house and do all my own work and work out by the day and feel fine now. I tell every one about the Vegetable Compound, for so many of my friends thought I would not get well."—Mrs. R. J. LINTON, 1850 West 33d Avenue, Denver, Colorado.

After reading letters like the above, and we are constantly publishing them, why should any woman hesitate to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound if she is in need of help? It brings relief where other medicines fail.

"Mona Lisa Smile" Wins Thirty-Five Hundred Proposals

EDITH MAE PATTERSON, ARKANSAS SCHOOLTEACHER, AND THE "MONA LISA SMILE" THAT WON HER 3500 PROPOSALS.

(By N.E.A. Service)
PINE BLUFF, Ark., July 15.—Three thousand five hundred proposals of marriage!

Edith Mae Patterson, young "schoolmarm" here, has received that many.

And has rejected every one of them. Some of them she hasn't even read. Eight months ago Miss Patterson's aunt, without Miss Patterson's knowledge, entered the schoolteacher's photograph in a state beauty contest.

A little later, along came a check for $1000—Miss Patterson had won first prize. Immediately her fame as "the girl with the Mona Lisa smile" began to spread and proposals began to rain in by mail and telegraph.

Then a contest to find the prettiest girl in the United States started. Miss Patterson entered. She won the first prize of $2500.

More proposals. Hundreds of 'em. All Miss Patterson's friends were kept busy opening them.

Now the little schoolteacher has entered an international beauty contest. Pine Bluff people are confident she'll win. If she does, it will be her last contest, she says.

"Competing isn't half as interesting as teaching school," she says.

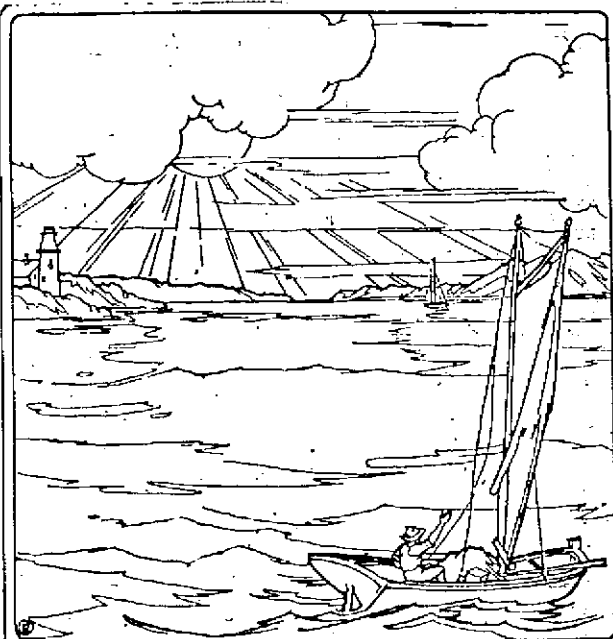

Marriage? Not until the right man comes, says Miss Patterson and smiles the Mona Lisa smile.

German Scientist, Who Sent Photos By Wire, Now Uses Radio

Sending photographs by radio is still in an experimental stage. But efforts of various scientists in this direction show it will not be long before this art will be developed almost to perfection.

One of the men working toward this end is Professor Arthur Korn of Munich. Professor Korn is noted as being the first to devise a system of sending photographs by line telegraph.

When wireless telegraphy came into prominence, Korn directed his attention to the application of his device in the new field.

Last month he succeeded in transmitting a picture of his wife from an Italian wireless station at San Paolo, near Rome, to the Nauen station in Germany. From there the photograph was sent across the sea

Radio Reflector Uses Little Energy to Carry Great Distances

BY PAUL F. GODLEY.

America's Foremost Radio Authority

There is little doubt that very small amounts of radio energy before long will enable the negotiation of great distances.

Radio engineers are now working on the application of the radio reflector principle particularly for those stations which communicate over great distances.

Of the energy now transmitted from the antenna of a station only an infinitesimally small part does useful work at the receiver. The total energy used is spread over a vast circular area.

If it were possible to direct all the energy employed toward one definite point, a great reduction in the power required to reach a certain distance would be possible immediately.

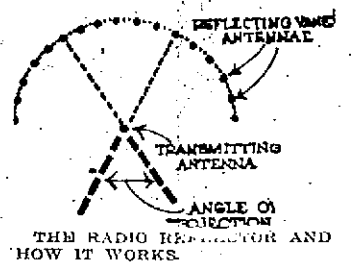

Transatlantic stations employ on the average about 250 horsepower of energy.

Marconi's reflector device is one way of solving this problem of energy wastes.

Little Energy

With a beautifully constructed model transmitting on a wave length of one meter, he directed the course of the wave at will within a very small angle.

Behind the transmitting antenna is placed a reflector of semi-circular shape. This reflector is composed of vanes which act as antennae in themselves. These are spread exactly one wave length from the transmitting antenna.

Energy thrown off from the transmitting antenna is absorbed by the wave antenna and is re-radiated. The energy which is thrown back toward the transmitting antenna is so timed, due to the spacing between the antenna and reflecting vane, that the radiation from the antenna is reinforced to a marked degree. Thus, the greater portion of the radiant energy is thrown in one direction.

Stations using these methods are already in experimental operation abroad, and the way is pointed toward further possibilities for radio communication.

economic advantage of the cities on the river that its cost is not out of proportion to the results that will accrue. Inasmuch as two adverse reports already have been filed, it is not difficult to see how much of impression needs to be made at the hearing.

The upshot of last night's meeting was the unanimous expression that the office involved must present a unified front and that between now and the date of hearing, strict co-operation must be in effect. In order that the entire subject may be thoroughly treated it was decided that each of the six cities should appoint a committee of one, the six to form an executive board which will meet to select and engage an engineer and an economist to work out all details in connection with the statement to be made before the engineering board.

Such a plan, of course, requires financial backing and it is probable that each city will be called upon to appropriate in the neighborhood of $1000 to carry it out.

Each city has its own phase of the question to develop, for Lowell may see more economic value in it than Amesbury, for instance, or vice versa. In addition to the person to be named in each city, there will be the city government representative, working in conjunction with the chamber of commerce.

It is felt that last night's meeting accomplished not a little and that it will be the medium of setting the proper machinery in operation.

Those present from Lowell were Mayor George H. Brown, City Solicitor Edward J. Tierney, President Patrick J. Bagley and Messrs. Smith J. Adams, Frank K. Stearns and Edward M. Appleton of the city council and Secretary-Manager George P. Wells and Benjamin Pouzner of the chamber of commerce.

The estimated cost of making a channel from Lowell to the sea is $12,152,102.32 exclusive of bridge changes, erection of terminals and settlement of floodage claims. In 1916, the estimated cost was just $7,000,000.

According to the story of Mrs. Caffee who was present during the alleged slaying, Mrs. Phillips accused Mrs. Meadows of having been intimate with her husband and of having accepted presents from the oil promoter.

Relatives and friends of the dead woman, who was only 23 years old and had been a widow only a few months, rallied to her defense and asserted that any aspersions on her character and reputation had basis only in "idle gossip."

Phillips has been detained as a material witness and will be held as such, according to the sheriff's office, at least until his wife is brought back to California.

Mrs. Phillips, who is 23 years old, is said to have had a brief experience with a comedy motion picture company as a "bathing girl." She also has been employed as a chorus girl.

Mrs. Caffee said she also was a former chorus girl.

Shown Officials

Mrs. Caffee went to the scene of the slaying yesterday and showed officers the exact spot where she said the argument and ensuing physical struggle between the two women took place.

"After Mrs. Phillips began striking Mrs. Meadows with the hammer," said Mrs. Caffee, "the girl was asking me to help her and I went toward her. Mrs. Phillips came toward me and called out to me: 'Get out of my way!'"

"All this girl said was: 'Lady, save me! That was before she fell down. I started down the street.'"

"I looked back and I saw Mrs. Phillips hitting her and I sort of cried out: 'Oh to myself, 'Oh, Clara.'"

"She didn't say much when I got back to the girl's car. Then she calmed and pretended to me that she wasn't afraid of anything. But I was pretty much afraid of her."

"She had the hammer in the car. She drove Mrs. Meadows' car back. She went out and got the car and drove down the hill and kept on until she came to her home."

gathering—the discussion of the navigation project, Congressman Rogers spoke at some length in favor of the proposed development and pointed out the necessity of thorough preparation of data, covering the subject from every conceivable angle.

As he said, it is most necessary that facts be obtained to convince the engineering board that the development of the river is a worth-while project; that it will work out to the Street Department's New Motor Catch Basin Cleaner

With the purchase of a motor catch basin cleaner, the board of public service has added a most up-to-date piece of apparatus to the equipment of the street department. It is believed that within rapid and efficient work the machine will make a great deal for itself within 12 months. Its cost delivered was $3400.

The machine is mounted on a Natick truck, a product of the New England Truck Co. of Fitchburg. The equipment includes a steel super-structure and traveling crane. The actual cleaning is accomplished by a gear-shaped, "orange peel" bucket that automatically lowers, grips and lifts, raises and dumps by compressed air obtained from the truck motor. The crane itself is swung into position by a wheel crank, easily operated by hand.

The machine will average 30 catch basins a day and will clean each thoroughly. The work of cleaning has been done by four gangs of men—three men to a gang—but the best each gang could average was three basins a day. These gangs still are at work for the present time the catch basins are in need of a great deal of attention, due to the heavy raisons and dumps by compressed air obtained from the truck motor. The crane itself is swung into position by a wheel crank, easily operated by hand.

There are 4000-odd catch basins in the city and with the new machine all of them will be cleaned out at least once a year and many of them, twice.

The city of Worcester recently has purchased its second cleaning machine and has done away with its former cleaning gangs altogether.

Engineers in charge of sewer construction in Boston are planning to visit Lowell some day next week, to see the new cleaner at work, with a view toward purchasing several of them for that city.

PITMAN HAS FIELD DAY AT SPRINGFIELD

SPRINGFIELD, July 13.—Earl Pitman of the Newbrook stable, Newark, N. J., had a field day in the second day's racing at the Eastern States track in West Springfield yesterday afternoon, winning two first places and a heat in the 2:13 trot, the latter victory netting him a good slice of the purse, as the race was on the three-horse board every heat. In seventh place was slated to drive Rolla Chimes, winner of third money in the 2:30 pace, but Delay took his place.

On 62nd Day of Hunger Strike

NADA, Ky., July 15.—So weak that he is unable to leave his bed, but steadfastly refusing food in any form, William Rice, today completed his 62nd day of continuous fasting. Death is said to be a matter of only a few days, unless he accepts food. Rice declares he receives food from a "spiritual fountain" and says he is tempted constantly by Satan to make use of earthly sustenance. He drinks considerable quantities of water. Rice asserts he was told by God in a vision that he should show his neighbors that they should make personal sacrifices if they expect heavenly reward.

Examination For Second "Lieuts."

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Final examinations for appointment as second lieutenants in the regular army will be held at all army posts at home or abroad beginning Sept. 4, and open to all eligible citizens between the ages of 21 and 30 years. Vacancies now exist in large numbers in practically every branch of the army and will not be affected by the reduction in office personnel ordered by congress to be made before Jan. 1.

Much Sought Pastor Found

PORT HURON, Mich., July 15.—Rev. Walter W. Culp, former Spring Valley, Ohio, pastor for whom a nation-wide search was instituted several weeks ago, after he was reported to have deserted his wife and nine children, was under arrest today in company with Miss Esther Hughes, 10 years of age. They were taken into custody at a summer hotel. "What is a man to do when his heart calls to another woman, and how can he keep a family of nine children on $1200 a year?" he asked.

Probe "Stone Age Murder"

Clara Phillips Indicted for Killing of California Widow

Suspect Arrested as Result of Her Companion's Story of Crime

LOS ANGELES, July 15.—Whereabouts of Mrs. Alberta Meadows the night before she was the victim of what has become known locally as the "stone age murder" because it was accomplished with a hammer and a pick, and where A. L. Phillips, husband of the woman, accused of the crime, spent the night, were subjects of inquiry today, deputy sheriffs said.

Mrs. Peggy Caffee, upon whose testimony the Los Angeles county grand jury yesterday returned an indictment charging murder against Mrs. Clara Phillips, now held at Tucson, Ariz., accompanied Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Meadows on a ride in Mrs. Meadows' automobile to the lonely spot where the young widow's body was found Wednesday evening, she and Mrs. Phillips made a secret visit to Mrs. Meadows' apartment and that Mrs. Meadows was not home.

Told Husband

Mrs. Phillips is said by her husband to have told him before her hurried departure on the trip to El Paso, Tex., that ended in her being taken from the train at Tucson, that she killed Mrs. Meadows because of jealousy, which, he asserted, was unwarranted.

According to the story of Mrs. Caffee who was present during the alleged slaying, Mrs. Phillips accused Mrs. Meadows of having been intimate with her husband and of having accepted presents from the oil promoter.

Relatives and friends of the dead woman, who was only 23 years old and had been a widow only a few months, rallied to her defense and asserted that any aspersions on her character and reputation had basis only in "idle gossip."

Phillips has been detained as a material witness and will be held as such, according to the sheriff's office, at least until his wife is brought back to California.

Mrs. Phillips, who is 23 years old, is said to have had a brief experience with a comedy motion picture company as a "bathing girl." She also has been employed as a chorus girl.

Mrs. Caffee said she also was a former chorus girl.

Shown Officials

Mrs. Caffee went to the scene of the slaying yesterday and showed officers the exact spot where she said the argument and ensuing physical struggle between the two women took place.

"After Mrs. Phillips began striking Mrs. Meadows with the hammer," said Mrs. Caffee, "the girl was asking me to help her and I went toward her. Mrs. Phillips came toward me and called out to me: 'Get out of my way!'"

"All this girl said was: 'Lady, save me! That was before she fell down. I started down the street.'"

"I looked back and I saw Mrs. Phillips hitting her and I sort of cried out: 'Oh to myself, 'Oh, Clara.'"

TARIFF ISSUE HOLDS SENATORS ON GRIDIRON AT WASHINGTON

Democrats Charged With Filibustering—Senator Walsh Commands Attention on Tariff—Harrison Hurls Onslaughts at Harding Administration—President Says Country Needs More Congressional Singing and Fewer Soloists—Other Notes

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—With huge electric fans whirling overhead, with frazzled nervous senators mopping their faces and sweating palm leaf fans, with the mercury registering high in the 90s and a humidity unknown to New England even in the most sultry dog days, the senate discussion of the tariff bill goes shambling on, the republicans trying in vain to break through the wall of opposition that blocks the way to its passage. There is revolt in republican ranks over the pending bill as well as a determined effort on the part of the democrats to secure less extreme duties on commodities which they regard as essential for the good of the country. In a determined effort to put off as far as possible the ill-fated day when the bill shall pass and also to secure modification of some of its schedules, the democrats are accused of conducting an organized filibuster along the lines that the republicans record to in the early Wilson administration when certain shipping bills were before the senate and went down to defeat at the last moment by the automatic ending of the session. For instance, Senator Tom Heflin of Alabama has already made no less than 19 speeches of considerable length on the tariff and the "tariff" of the federal reserve board, talking in the latter nominally allotted to the tariff bill. And when Heflin swings out his long arms and shouts denunciations of the republican administration and congress, the galleries sit up and take notice, often breaking into shouts of laughter at the Heflin jokes and stories which partly bluster and partly make. Of course the vice president quickly restores order by sharp raps of his gavel and threats to clear the galleries if such incidents again occur, but Heflin keeps right on along the same line, and the galleries merely chuckle next time and keep their seats. But Heflin is not the only southern senator to take advantage of the freedom of speech allowed by lax senate rules. Caraway and Robinson of Arkansas and King of Utah run him a close second and some very clever blocking of republican wheels is being done.

Senator Walsh of Massachusetts has done considerable talking but it has been along the line of protesting what he believes to be New England's interests and not to the nature of a filibuster. When Senator David I. Walsh has talked he has said something worth listening to and his colleagues have given his suggestions courteous attention and sometimes changed schedules to meet his approval.

It is understood that Senator Walsh will take no active part in the Massachusetts primaries preferring to regard each candidate from a friendly viewpoint. If the final contest for the senatorship should rest between Lodge and Col. Gaston or Sherman D. Whipple, all Washington will watch the result with especial interest for of course Lodge is one of the best known men in congress, owing not only to his seniority in service but also as republican leader of the senate. Whipple is well known here through his frequent appearances before the U. S.

supreme court and at hearings where he has represented various parties. Col. Gaston is known as an advanced type of business man with political aspirations.

Senator Harrison's Onslaughts

Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi who is one of the most vigorous and persistent denouncers of the policies of President Harding and the republican party as can be found in congress, recently had as his personal guests several old confederate war veterans from down in his home state. President Harding was informed of their presence in the city and at once got word to Harrison that if he would bring his guests to the White House, he would be glad to see them. So down to the White House went Senator Harrison and his aged constituents, where President Harding gave them all a most cordial welcome and talked informally with them for some minutes right in the midst of one of his busiest days. As soon as Senator Harrison got back to the senate he secured the floor and immediately opened up one of his broadside attacks on the Harding administration, grinning broadly as he did so. All of which shows that the Harrison onslaughts are directed at policies and not persons, for Harrison is reckoned as a "good fellow" even by his republican adversaries and their battles leave nothing more serious than skin-deep wounds. It's a political game that congress is now playing on both sides of the aisle that separates the republicans from the democrats and although the reading public may take the usual recriminations and accusations very seriously, the senate itself does not do so. It realizes it is election year and the time is close at hand when counting votes gives one or the other of the two great parties control for the next two years.

What Country Needs

President Harding hit the nail right on the head when he recently remarked "What the country needs is more congressional singing and fewer soloists whose egotism makes them clamor for prominence." It is very evident in Washington, as elsewhere, that too many politicians and factions are trying to sing different songs at the same time and in different keys. The Washington Post in commenting on the president's advice said: "Let's take the president's advice and not try to mix 'Good Old Christian Soldier' with 'There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight.' Let's have a little old fashioned melody once in a while and all join in singing 'My Country, 'Tis of Thee' with the president leading the congregation."

The New Party

Projectors of the proposed new party are said to be already at loggerheads as to whether it shall be disunited democrats or disgruntled republicans that shall lead the procession and hold the highest offices. For it's pretty well known that the new party will be made up only of persons who have failed to get what they want out of the two great parties already existing.

A MEDICINE MADE FROM FRUIT

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" is Intensified Juices of Apples, Oranges, Figs and Prunes

COMBINED WITH TONICS

The extraordinary powers of "Fruit-a-tives" or "Fruit Laxo Tablets" in curing disease are due to one fact, and one fact only—IT IS A GENUINE FRUIT MEDICINE, MADE FROM THE JUICES OF FRESH, RIPE FRUITS.

By a remarkable discovery of one of the leading physicians, the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes are transformed into a new compound which has all the medicinal properties of fresh fruit and in a more marked degree.

To these intensified fruit juices are added tonics and antiseptics, and the entire value of "Fruit-a-tives" is due to this unique combination of fruit juices and tonics.

"Fruit-a-tives" has proved its remarkable value in thousands and thousands of cases of Stomach, Liver and Kidney Trouble—in Headaches, Rheumatism and Neuralgia—in Chronic Constipation and Dyspepsia—in Nervousness, Skin Diseases, Poor Blood and a general run-down condition of the system.

There is no substitute for "Fruit-a-tives" because these "Fruit Laxo Tablets" are the only medicine in the world made from fruit juices.

of the house to be found in the city now and the six weeks' recess is an actual fact. The senate is keeping a quorum notwithstanding the intense heat and the equally intense desire on the part of one-third of the senate to get back home and look after the political fences which must stand a heavy strain both at the primary and November elections. Taking the fate of New of Indiana and McCumber of North Dakota as examples, it does not promise well for the men tied close to their seats while their campaigns are in progress. Both those men went down to defeat. Hale of Maine who went home only a few days before the primary is the only man who stood his ground here who won out with what might be called a handsome majority. But both the prestige of the Hale name in Maine and the fact that the Maine record for half a century can show no change in selecting a republican senator after the first fight for nomination was settled, may have had something to do with it, although Hale has unquestionably made an excellent senator in representing the hopes and wishes of the Pine Tree State.

New Hampshire is the only New England state which does not elect a senator at the November polls.

Hale will win hands down in Maine; so will Greene in Vermont, but Lodge in Massachusetts and Gerry in Rhode Island will have fights on their hands. McLean will undoubtedly be a candidate to succeed himself in Connecticut, and will probably win out, but as Connecticut is the only New England state that still holds old fashioned conventions instead of primaries, he has not yet been compelled to make an announcement of his candidacy or open his campaign.

LEAGUE TO CONVENE

Council of League of Nations Gather for Session in London

LONDON, July 15.—(By the Associated Press) For the first since its organization, the Council of the League of Nations is to meet in London. The sessions, which are expected to last 10 days, will be held in St. James palace beginning Monday.

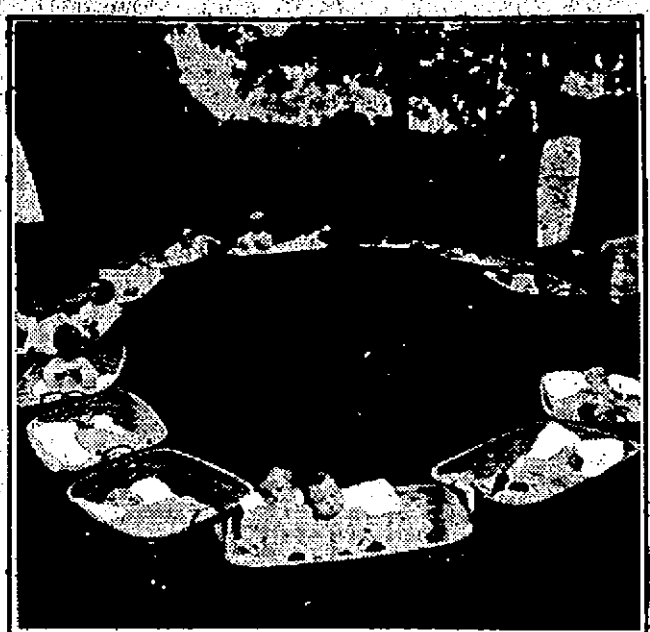

The Earl of Balfour, Great Britain's acting foreign minister, will preside.

Jugo-Slavia, Austria, Rumania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Albania are sending delegates to defend their interests in the various controversies scheduled to come before the meeting. Among the 22 items on the agenda are the reduction of armaments, treatment of minorities, traffic in women and children, the deportations from Asia Minor, the opium traffic, disputes over boundaries and incursions of bandits discussion of the Palestine, Syrian and other mandates, epidemics and the situation in the eastern Mediterranean.

The council has received two substantial gifts of money from the American Relief administration and the American Red Cross, for the relief and evacuation of the Russian refugees now in Constantinople, and will endeavor to obtain a like amount from the league members.

NO ARRESTS YET IN FRONT STREET RAIDS

No arrests have been made as yet in connection with raids conducted by federal and local officers on Front street, last night. They have secured a number of the names as a preliminary to inserting them in warrants, but are checking them up to insure their correctness. The first visit was paid to the premises of Stanislaw Wojcik at 23 Front street, where one gallon of moonshine, 27 beer bottles, a copier machine and seven empty jugs were confiscated. It is said that 10 cents a liter was the prevailing price at this place. The next visit was at 9 Front street, whence they departed with three gallons of moonshine, three empty jugs and 20-gallon still, with coal. The story is said to be the property of John Salva, and the still was well concealed under a window, being discovered only by accident. The officers concerned in the raids were Federal Officers Goodridge and Bowers and local officers Aldrich, Trudel, E. J. Dwyer and Noyes.

U. S. Senator Suspected of Bootlegging

MONTEPELIER, Vt., July 14.—United States Senator William P. Dillingham while motoring over the Waterbury-Montpelier road today was stopped by customs officers who were searching for bootleggers. Senator Dillingham's only comment on the affair was: "This is the first time I have ever been held up—an interesting experience." The customs officers' activities in searching automobiles in the vicinity yielded 20 cases of liquor during the day.

YOU ARE THE JUDGE!

The citizens of Lowell are at the present time being presented with some unusual propaganda regarding the consumption of an important commodity—Ice Cream.

The Boston Ice Cream Co. wishes to go on record as being opposed to this attempt on the part of certain competitors to control the sale of ice cream in this city.

Such methods are a step backward in modern business progress. Carried a little farther, they may easily harm Lowell's industrial prosperity. They may serve to drive away many firms interested in locating in the City of Lowell.

Our ice cream qualifies as a Lowell-made product. It is manufactured right here in town. For fifteen years we have paid many thousands of dollars in wages to Lowell residents and taxes to the city government. But we welcome that honest competition which makes for a higher standard of quality whether it be in the manufacture of ice cream—or rubber boots.

So far as our ice cream goes, we are going to continue to build our prosperity on the maintenance of flavor and quality in its ingredients combined with care and sanitation in its manufacture. And we are going to leave it to the residents of Lowell to judge which ice cream—Lowell-made or otherwise—they shall prefer. Our product is good enough to withstand outside competition—as any other Lowell-made ice cream should be.

Step into the nearest soda fountain selling our ice cream. If you have not tried it you will soon learn why it is consumed in such quantities by the residents of Lowell. It is a quality product selling on its own merit. We think it superior to any ice cream in the city. You shall be the judge!

Quarter Century Ago

25 Years Ago
From the old Sun:
"A fashionable church wedding took place at the Chelmsford Street Free Baptist church, last evening, (July 14), when Miss Elizabeth Gay Morgan, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morgan of 11 C Street, a teacher in the Edison school, and Mr. Albert McKee Grant, eldest son of J. R. Grant, and a member of the firm of J. D. Grant & Co., jewelers, were united in marriage by Rev. H. Lockhart, pastor of the church."

25 Years Ago
The old Sun has a lengthy report of the institution of Clan Grant from which the following is taken:
"The Campbells are Coming. Helighe, Helighe, rung out the shrill notes of the bagpipes in Central street, last night, and every man within hearing distance possessed of the blood of Bonnie Scotland thrummed up all else to see the cause of the unwelcome demonstration. The occasion was the institution and installation of the new members of the Royal Order of Scottish Chiefs, composed of the brain and brawn of Lowell's Scotch population."

The exercises were held in the Manchester Unity hall, Runkle building, and began with lodge exercises for the members only. The installing exercises were conducted by the grand officers. The officers installed were: Chief, George Mohr; tiler, J. W. Greer; chaplain, John Grant; secretary, George E. Farquhar; financial secretary, David Kinghorn; treasurer, William Houston; pandemonium, Hugh McPherson; sennet, S. J. Greer. The charter members are R. McElroy, George Mohr, J. G. Jackson, David Kinghorn, G. S. Farquhar, William Houston, J. W. Greer, H. J. Greer, John Grant, Hugh McPherson, A. McPherson, H. Seaman, Walter Remick, J. Taylor, George Duchan, Joseph Dempster, Daniel McLaughlin and John McDonald, and James Syme Hastings was elected an honorary member."

Irregular Weather
In this column last week, I noted the fact that 25 years ago the first week of July was so hot that several deaths resulted from the heat. Then followed a terrific rain that caused a sudden rise in the river as noted in the Sun as follows: "Never before has the water in the Merrimack been so high on the 16th of July as it is today. Rising eight feet or more over the dam at Pawtucket Falls, the water rushed furiously down around the river bend, foaming, dashing, roaring wildly in its career over the jagged rocks that rise in the river bed and carrying in its swift current a great volume of drift wood."

The contrasts in the weather of July in that year were somewhat similar to those of June this year. Seldom has June brought such a hot spell and this was followed by a period of heavy rains that caused a flooded river.

Mgr. O'Connell
From the old Sun:
"Monsignor W. H. O'Connell, formerly of this city, rector of the American college at Rome, is visiting his old home in this city. He arrived Saturday at Boston on the Servia and after a brief visit to his old pastor, Very Rev. Fr. Byrne, V. O., came to this city. He comes on a vacation and will soon return."

"Mgr. O'Connell was the guest of Rev. Fr. Roman of St. Peter's church yesterday afternoon."

It was through his work as rector of the American college at Rome that Mgr. O'Connell, now His Eminence the Cardinal, attracted the attention of the Holy See and thus laid the foundation of his future distinction in the councils of the church. He was always a welcome visitor at St. Peter's, as the late Fr. Roman took a fatherly interest in three brilliant young clergymen of his parish, the first of whom was Rev. W. H. O'Connell, and the others Rev. Fr. Allen, now bishop of Mobile, Ala. and the third, the late lamented Bishop Garrigan, who passed away last year at Sioux City, Ia.

For a Newsboys' Home

In the old Sun is a prominent article setting forth a scheme for establishing a newsboys' home in Lowell devised by the late J. L. Chaffoux. It will be remembered that Mr. Chaffoux annually ran a newsboys' picnic, which was a great event in the lives of the youngsters. They enjoyed a real day's sport and a fine dinner provided through the generosity of Mr. Chaffoux. His plan for raising funds to establish a home was to have a big outing once a year, at which baseball and other games would be played by the newsboys of Lowell against those of Lawrence and Nashua. He would have a charge of 25 cents admission for this general field day and devote the proceeds to the fund for the home. He was confident that the scheme would meet with public favor and that many prominent citizens would assist in making the movement a success.

Unfortunately, Mr. Chaffoux passed away before he had an opportunity to inaugurate this movement and nobody has since taken up the idea not have the newsboys found anybody to give them an annual picnic. The only substitute for the newsboys' home as proposed by Mr. Chaffoux is the Boys' club on Dutton street, which does good work in its way, but is not in any sense a newsboys' home. The time may come, however, when Mr. Chaffoux's plan will be revived and a home established for these hard-working and plucky little chaps who are found in every part of the city selling the Sun and other newspapers. They deserve kind treatment from the community at large.

GEORGIA PEACH NEARER GEORGE

"Ty" Cobb Creeps up to Within 14 Points of Slater

Charlie Hollocher Makes Big Gain With Stick During Week

CHICAGO, July 15.—(By the Associated Press.) Ty Cobb's challenge for the batting leadership of the American league was no flash in the pan, judging from averages compiled today which show the Detroit leader closing the gap slightly on his rival, George Slater, the St. Louis marvel, who is leading the race with an average of .420.

Cobb is just 14 points behind Slater as compared with 31 a week ago. The noted Georgian's remarkable batting streak nelled him 30 hits in his last nine games as against 13 hits collected by Slater in eight games.

Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland club, moved back into third place with an average of .387, but without dangerous rival in base stealing. He is showing his heels to the contenders with a string of home runs, while Ken Williams, the home run hitter, is second in line with .36.

The sea-sawing fight between Williams and Tris Walker of the Athletics for home run hitting continues with honors even, each having knocked out 21. Ruth is down in the list with .34.

Leading batters for 15 or more games: Miller, Philadelphia, .361; Schang, New York, .352; O'Neill, Cleveland, .349; Bauser, Detroit, .347; Ellis, Detroit, .342; Witt, Detroit, .341; McGraw, St. Louis, .332.

Perhaps the most impressive stick work in the National league was the batting of Charlie Hollocher, shortstop of the Chicago club. In seven games smashed out 13 hits which enabled him to jump from ninth to third place in the list of leading figures with an average of .395, nine points above his mark of a week ago. Hank Gowdy, of Boston, is second with .378.

BOXING BOUTS AT THE MASSACHUSETTS MILLS

An impending reduction in wages and talk of strike offered no deterrent to the scheduled boxing bouts at the Massachusetts Mills A. A. The bouts were held in the special appointed hall at the mill and were attended by a fair-sized crowd of local fans.

The program opened with a fast four-round bout between Benny Thompson and George Petrakos, which proved one of the features of the evening. A rapid exchange of punches and uppercuts, intermingled with a few controversial movements on the part of Petrakos, kept the crowd on edge throughout.

Bout Number 2 brought together Billy Nelson and Tipper Quinn in a three-round exhibition. The first two rounds were void of action, but the third was a hummer, both boys mixing it up freely.

The third bout, introducing Lucky Leonard and Frank Reiger, provided the real thrill of the evening. A toe to toe battle, featured with a marvelous assortment of punches of the solar plexus variety, gained much applause for the contestants. Reiger appeared to have the advantage in the early rounds but the finish, showing a surprising burst of speed and making honors even for the bout.

Reiger, Nelson and George Parker appeared in the fourth and final encounter and exhibited rare skill both on the defense and offense. Both boys had experienced leather pushers, having taken part in several bouts at local and out-of-town clubs. Their exhibition last night was well appreciated.

The following served as officials: Announcer, Jack Chwick; referee, Eben Brennan; timer, Bernard Brady.

BATTLE OF BATS AT GRANITEVILLE TODAY

At Graniteville this afternoon the Abbot Worsted team crossed bats with the strong Wintrop Council, K. of C. Conflicting claims caused a cessation of the expected game with the Dorchester B. B. but the visiting K. of C. team proved a worthy substitute. With McWilliams and McKeon to choose from as pitcher, the Wintrop boys promised to make things hot for the speedy Abbots, who presented practically the same lineup that made such a good impression against the Salem Town team last Tuesday evening. At Davidson toed the rubber and Henry Sullivan was on the receiving end. The game was called at 2 o'clock on the Abbot playground, Graniteville.

YANKEES ROUT THE BROWNIES

Shocker No Longer Jinx to New York's Pennant Chasers

Rogers Hornsby Hits 24th Home Run Tying Cravath's Old Record

NEW YORK, July 15.—Urban Shocker, pitching ace of the St. Louis Browns, is no longer a Yankee jinx. He has started four times against the New Yorkers in the last seven games the teams have played and lost them all, the fourth defeat coming when the league leaders bowed to Bob Sawkey's superior box work, 4 to 0. The Yugenon drove Shocker from the box on two successive bases in St. Louis and Joe Bush beat the spitball star Tuesday at the Polo grounds.

The victory put the Yankees back within a half game of the pennant, and put them within two and a half games of the Giants, who lost their second straight to Chicago. Hornsby's clout tied Gavy Cravath's modern National league home run record, made with the Phillies, in 1915, and put him within three homers of Ed Williamson's high mark, 27, made in 1914.

Hack Miller's two homers and Virgil Cheever's relief pitching featured the Cubs' triumph over McGraw's men, 6 to 4.

Rixey shot out Brooklyn, 3 to 0, giving the Reds three out of five and dealing the Dodgers their eighth setback in nine games in the west, while Wilbur Cooper twisted the Y's to a 5-1 victory over Boston.

Cleveland relied in the eighth and ninth to win its fourth straight from the Red Sox and Washington scored five runs in the first, enough to beat Chicago, 7 to 1.

ALL-AMERICAN HOME RUN SMASHER

Frank Reiger of the End (Okla.) Western Association baseball team, has a claim to the All-American home run lead.

Reiger on July 5 had 23 circuit hits to his credit this season. His batting average is .360. The four-basers have not come in bunches, but have been spread throughout the season and in all parks of the league.

Reiger's home was Garber, a village just a few miles from Enid. He became interested in the record of Babe Ruth and decided that he could make a record for himself.

In 1921 Reiger played his first professional baseball. He was one of the leading catchers of the Western Association in his first season. He was also home-run king with 20 to his credit. He batted .312.

Because he could do about home runs Reiger was transferred to the outfield this season. He has played in 13 games.

Reiger is 26 years of age. Although he has played in only one full season of organized baseball his ambition is to star in major ball next season.

Major scouts have been thick around him this season and a fancy price is being demanded for him.

DRIVE TO PURCHASE SPALDING PARK

The alumni drive committee of the High School Alumni Association, formed for the purpose of purchasing Spalding park, held a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce rooms yesterday afternoon, and plans were made for the drive. This drive is to raise sufficient funds to enlarge the park, introduce modern facilities and construct a clubhouse, containing lockers, showers and toilets.

Circular letters, containing an appeal for subscriptions and a pledge card, will be mailed to members of the alumni, followed by a personal solicitation by teams of workers.

Mr. Silverblatt, the chairman, says that an article in the paper, headed "Drive in Lowell and this drive must be made a success in order to insure the continuance of sports in the high school. This drive will save the only available one in the city and insure the possession of this is secured. It will be impossible to have a better school than this one.

The committee, after receiving estimates, has found that the quota of the drive will have to be $85,000. The names of solicitors are now being formed and the actual work of raising the money will begin very soon.

Rookie and Veteran Plug Hole in Detroit's Infield

DETROIT'S DOUBLE-PLAY DUET RIGNEY, (RIGHT) CUTHSHAW.

By HILL EVANS

Breaks of the game that do not appear in the error column decide many a contest.

The Detroit Tigers led the American league in hitting last year with the remarkable team average of .315, yet the Tigers finished sixth in the standing.

Detroit had a strong offense, but the showing of the Tigers in 1921 proved largely because of the inability of the infield to complete double plays.

Failure to complete double plays, when perfect handling of the ball would bring such a result, is one of the little slips in baseball that prove so costly.

Among the keynotes lack for the Tigers last year there was a constant inability to make double plays.

Slow handling of a ground ball, a bad loss to second, or a poor throw to first would invariably cause the loss of the second man in an attempted double play.

Slow on Double Plays

During each season I see scores of players out after chances have been offered to retire the side. That was the big fault of the Detroit club last year, inability to make double plays.

Made the Team

In the spring of the year when Rigney was having his troubles, Manager Cobb never lost faith. One day in Cleveland after a couple of boots by the youngster had helped lose the game Cobb remarked to me: "Rigney is a great ball player. He can go to his right or left equally well. He has a good arm and plenty of nerve. Just wait until he gets his bearings. In a couple of months they will be talking about him around the American league circuit."

Recently, after the Tigers had won eight straight games, knocking New York for four in a row, I heard the astute Connie Mack say: "That youngster Rigney has done wonders for Detroit. He is a fine looking ball player and is bound to get better. I like his style very much. He has made the team."

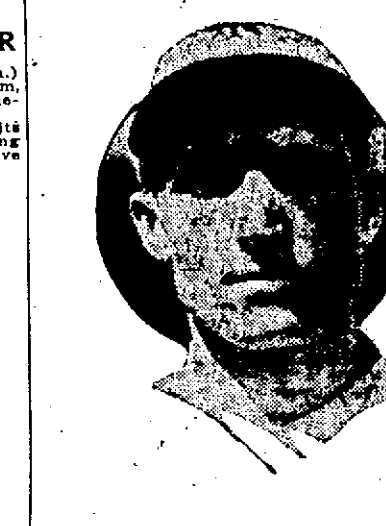

So in looking around for one of the reasons why the Tigers are doing so well don't overlook Shortstop Rigney. He has more than made good.

The Fielding records show that in this department of the game the Tigers were a bad last with only 107 double plays to their credit.

While there have been a number of contributing causes to the showing the Detroit club has made so far this year none stand out more than the play of Rigney and Cuthshaw at short and second.

The recruit Rigney at short has just about founded out the Tigers' infield. The presence of the veteran George Cuthshaw at second has supplied the much needed steadiness.

Bancroft, Frisch and Nehf Starring with New York Nationals

DAVE BANCROFT

The New York Giants won the National league pennant and the world championship in 1921. No player stood out more prominently in the great showing made by the Giants last year than Dave Bancroft, shortstop extraordinary.

The diminutive Bancroft is unquestionably one of the most valuable players in the majors. He is the key to McGraw's great infield.

Hughie Jennings knows a ball player when he sees one. Jennings is now active as assistant to McGraw at New York. In his day Jennings was a great shortstop. Here is what he thinks of Bancroft:

"Bancroft is one of the greatest shortstops in the history of the game. He can go equally well to his right or left, has a great arm, and is a good hitter. In addition he is pretty fast on his feet.

The best thing about Bancroft is he can think. He uses his brain. He is more than a great mechanical player. A player like Bancroft at short means everything to a ball club."

FRANK FRISCH

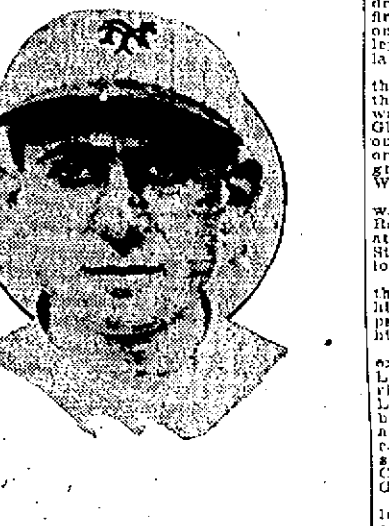

In Frankie Frisch, the "Fordham Flash," McGraw picked up one of the greatest stars that has come to the National league in years.

Frisch came direct to the Giants from Fordham, and made good from his very first appearance.

Frisch hits left-handed and is a crack batsman. He is one of the fastest players in the majors. He has a great arm. He doesn't need to field balls cleanly to be certain of getting his man. His great arm carries him over many a bobbie.

Last year Frisch starred at third base. When McGraw secured Groh from Cincinnati Frisch was shifted to second.

An injury to his leg in the spring games retarded Frisch and got him off to a late start, but he has about hit his stride and will be a great man for the Giants the rest of the way.

ARTHUR NEHF

In Art Nehf the New York Giants have one of the greatest southpaw pitchers in the game.

It is almost impossible to estimate what a crack left-handed pitcher means to a ball club that is fighting for the pennant.

Nehf is just such a pitcher. Against clubs weak against southpaw pitching the very presence of Nehf on the rubber almost insures victory.

In addition he is of great value as a relief pitcher, when some right-handed twirler is faltering, and a bunch of hard-hitting left-handers are coming up.

Nehf has better than the average speed, a fine hook, and a nice change of pace. Better yet, he pitches intelligently. He does more than merely throw the ball, he tries to work on the batter's weakness whatever it may be.

JUDGES QUIT AT RACES

Near-Riot at Toledo Because of Decision—Cox Has New Winner

TOLEDO, July 15—One of the most sensational incidents at a Grand Circuit meeting in years took place yesterday, when the three judges, Joseph McGraw, Chester Stands and I. C. Webb, walked from the stand and refused to serve further, after the officials of the local driving club had caused an announcement to be made that the drive was to be made at the Port Miami State for 208 trotters.

This occurred shortly after the judges had given a close decision in favor of Tom Murphy's Princess Etawah over the favorite, Prince Loree. The finish between the pair being very close.

A crowd surrounded the stand. McGraw, driver of Prince Loree, went to protest and incited the crowd when his protest was turned down. Following a near riot the decision in regard to the best was made the action of the judges, as described above. Their place was taken by James Cox, William Holst and George Bryce, the latter secretary of the driving club.

In the auctions on the 208 stake Prince Loree sold for $300, Princess Etawah and Herbelwyn $35 each. Walter Sterling $150, Voltaire $20 and the 208 Herbeyn made the pace in the first heat, but faded early. Princess Etawah winning in a drive from just David. Walter Sterling was out in front early in the second heat, but Princess Etawah took the lead in the homestretch. Then Prince Loree came from far in the rear, drawing up to beat the finish being very close, the decision in favor of the mare causing the storm as above told.

Prince Loree started earlier in the final heat and won by half a length from Murphy's mare. The winner is owned by H. L. Bowles of Springfield, Mass.

Murphy, who had not won a race this season until today, made it two, beating the free-for-all pacers, with Roy Carter, who was won by half a length, but was not up to the task of beating Murphy's mare. Roger C. was the contender in the first heat, but was beaten in 5.02 1/2, the fastest race heat of the season. Johnny Quirk was the

Condon Still Holds First Place—Gath of Broadways in Second Place—Souza Third

This was a week of many surprises in Ricard's Most Popular Twilight League Ball Player contest conducted exclusively in The Sun. To begin with, our old friend Condon, the speedy Y.M.C.I. player, with a lead of 3800 votes over Souza, his nearest rival, last week, relinquished his position and is now leading the contest with 5600 votes over his nearest rival. Souza, the popular Massachusetts player, who has been wavering back and forth between first and second place for the past few weeks, dropped into third position, losing his fifth place of the Broadways, having lost the contest to Gath, of Centralville and Klutea, Broadways, runners up. Right through the list of contestants, changes were made in the standing this week. Many of the players took big jumps, putting them nearer and nearer the top of the list. It's a great old contest, boys, and it's getting hotter and hotter each week. Votes are piling up fast at Ricard's store. Don't forget that the player near the end of the list has just as much chance of winning a prize as the fellow at the top of the list. The contest isn't over yet, by any means, and your vote or votes count in to Ricard's for some player, is going to give the old contest a big boost. Don't hold out any longer. If you have any votes hanging around, send them in. Only a few weeks more of the contest and each week finds more votes registered than the preceding week. The country and players are having a mighty busy time of it and it looks as though they will be kept on the jump every minute from now to the close of the contest.

A final word. To sure that you clip out that vote coupon from the sporting page of The Sun each week, fill it out and send it in to Ricard's store as early in the week as possible. As announced before, it is necessary that all votes be in by Friday noon each week, to be registered in that week's standing of contestants.

NO MORE SATURDAY GAMES AFTER TODAY

Discontinuance of Saturday afternoon games after today was one of the principal matters determined on at a meeting of the Twilight league association, held yesterday, at Centralville and Massachusetts mills will be the last of this character.

The schedule for next week follows: Monday, Highland Daylights vs. Massachusetts, Tuesday, Centralville vs. Y.M.C.I., Wednesday, Massachusetts vs. Y.M.C.I., Thursday, Centralville vs. K. of C. Friday, Broadways vs. Highland Daylights. Monday's game will be that which was postponed from last Thursday evening.

SUNDAY GAME AT SPALDING PARK

The famous Boston Tigers, a combination of colored boys who have been sweating everything before them this season, will be the opponents of the Centralvilles at Spalding park Sunday afternoon. Three weeks ago they were booked to play here, but the ever-lasting rain at that time caused a cancellation. The strengthened Centralville outfit, with Eddie Cawley and other stars in the lineup, will add interest to the game for they are defeated since the first game with the Lawrence K. of C. If Tyler should be in pitching form he will undoubtedly make his bow to the public for the first time since he left the little old New England league a decade or more ago.

Jano Revere, owned by F. H. Ellis of Philadelphia and driven by Ben White, who was second best all the time and Jorgy, who was second best in 1919, were the first time since he left the little old New England league a decade or more ago.

Walter Cox put a new one across in the 4-year-old colt, Lee Tide, with which he won the $200 trot, a four-year-old race, after Jorgy's death. He had won the first heat of the 212 pace, the Alabama mare, Minnie Williams, cashed handsomely in the next two.

Charley Valentino worked the 2-year-old pacing colt, Brook Volo, a mile in 2.02 1/2, a quarter second faster than the world's record for colts of the age and sex.

CAWLEY BIG NOISE

Y. M. C. I. Leader Plays Whole Game Himself—

Score is 4-4

Another life was the outcome of last night's Twilight league game, with the score at the end of seven innings standing at 4 to 4, and the Y.M.C.I. and Broadways the contenders. The game was featured by many fine bits of fielding, and the most brilliant pieces of work were by Eddie Cawley himself, who not only drove out a homer past the pond in the first inning, but in the seventh, with the Broadways one run ahead, put in pinch hitters who completely fooled Sturtevant, the Broadways standby, and scored the tying run. He finished in a state of glory by knocking out the winning out and three strikeouts resulting.

The Y.M.C.I. were first at bat. J. Liston struck out to left, and O'Day sacrificed him to second. R. Jenkins fired to center, and Cawley sent out a long liner for a complete circuit, Jim Liston being also.

The Broadways tied it up immediately. Keyes angled to left and Gath lined out to right, who touched the second baseman and then to first. Gath, batting for Hobson, walked. J. Liston reached first on Gath's error, and threw to first baseman, who scored on Lawrence's single to center. Cawley made a spectacular catch of Williams' line, making the third out. The Broadways scored again in the third and fourth making it 4 to 2.

In the third, Keyes struck out and Gath was tossed, stealing second at once. Gleason also walked, but Spaine struck out, making it two down. Gath scored on Williams' error on Lawrence's grounder, and Lawrence took second. Williams went out, Cawley to McGraw's.

In the fourth, McCarthy walked and was scored on by Desmond. On Ray Liston's high pop to set ground at second, Desmond crossed the path. Sturtevant also strolled, but was followed by two putouts in the next at-bat, hitting for Hobson, walked. J. Liston reached first on Gath's error, and threw to first baseman, who scored on Lawrence's single to center. Cawley made a spectacular catch of Williams' line, making the third out. The Broadways scored again in the third and fourth making it 4 to 2.

The North Ends defeated the Kitson company team yesterday by the score of 13 to 8, Connelley and Lawrence were the stars for the winners. Tomorrow the North Ends will play the Wanderers on the North common. The game will start at 8 o'clock.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

St. Patrick's Junior Holy Name team will play the Unity team tomorrow afternoon at Washington park. All St. Patrick's players are requested to report at the grounds at 8 o'clock.

The Echoes of West Fourth street would like to hear from the Washington A. A. and are willing to play any other A. A. team in the city. Answer through this paper or see Manager Dacey at the corner of West Fourth and Bridge streets any evening after 8 o'clock.

AID FOR SOLDIERS OF WORLD WAR

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, July 15.—Soldiers of the World war, who desire state aid and military aid, must be of good moral character; otherwise they will get no financial assistance from the commonwealth.

This fact is pointed out today by the division of state aid and pension, which calls attention to the fact that much needed assistance is being refused applicants in many cases because the applicants do not meet the moral requirement established by the state.

While such applicants—those of improper moral calibre—are refused state aid they are not allowed to die without succor. They are turned over to the cities and towns from which they come. From these cities and towns, they may receive aid as the municipalities have no "moral" requirement for granting necessary assistance.

The rejection of state aid to many pitiful cases is not always understood by the public at large, which has not had explained previously the moral requirements of the case.

SCHOOL FOR NON-COMS AT STATE ARMORY

Monday evening, under the direction of Sergt. Hinckley, a school for non-commissioned officers of Company M, 151st Infantry, will be started at the State Armory in Westford street. This will be the second of the series of schools in machine gun work, being held every Monday evening until the company leaves for camp next month.

The first military dance of the organization will be held at the Pawtucket boathouse Tuesday evening, August 1, and a committee has been appointed to make arrangements for this affair. This committee consists of the following: Private John T. Curry, chairman; Sergt. Gagnon, secretary; Corp. Fitzgerald, treasurer; Sergt. Connelly, Corp. Angus and Private Reardon, aides. Invitations will be extended to Mayor Brown and members of the city council.

HOSPITAL WILL BE CHANGED TO SCHOOL

BOSTON, July 15.—The Norfolk State hospital will be converted into a vocational training school for disabled World war veterans and a lease to the government for this purpose has just been executed. It was learned yesterday. The hospital has been used for the last two years as a soldiers' hospital.

STREET RAILWAY DECLARES DIVIDEND

The public trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. has announced a 3 per cent. dividend on sinking fund stock and first preferred stock, Series A, payable August 1. The announcement is believed to foreshadow an attempt to re-establish these senior issues upon a regular 6 per cent. annual basis.

BAIL IS REFUSED TO CHARLES PONZI

BOSTON, July 15.—Charles Ponzi, the quick-rich promoter who is serving a five years' federal sentence for fraudulent use of the mails, was refused bail today on the 22 indictments pending against him in Suffolk county as a result of his promotion schemes two years ago. Superior Court Judge Flynn, who denied Ponzi's motion asking that he be set at liberty under bond in the event that he is paroled this summer from the Plymouth jail, also set September 18 as the date for Ponzi's trial on the state indictments.

In his motion, Ponzi pointed out that he would be eligible for parole from his federal sentence this month.

WILL ALLOW LAWHORN TO APPEAR BEFORE JURY

BOSTON, July 15.—Col. A. F. Marx, commanding the marine corps detachment at the Boston navy yard, was notified by naval authorities in Washington yesterday that Private John D. Lawhorn might appear before the Suffolk county grand jury next Tuesday when it considers the murder of Ralph W. Brewster, station agent at Winchester, last April.

Lawhorn was connected with the murder by the statement of an acquaintance now in jail who said that the marine privates had confessed to the crime. Lawhorn denied all knowledge of the murder and navy yard records were produced to show that he was on guard duty at the time.

Gerard Expects Kaiserist Plots for Fifty Years

BY EDWARD M. TRIERREY
NEWPORT, R. I., July 14.—James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, sees the liberalization of the beaten empire on the way to realization.

Disclosing for the first time in an interview with N.E.A. service the prophecy by Walter Rathenau in nearly twenty years before armistice that it would take 50 years to liberalize Germany, Gerard goes a step farther and says he is convinced the prophecy will come true.

Just returned from another visit to Europe, Gerard declares neither the assassination of Rathenau nor the menace of monarchist plots will prevent the success of the task Rathenau foresaw and was engaged in when murdered.

"As I was leaving Berlin in February, 1917," said Gerard, "Rathenau told me his country would be defeated within two years and that it would take 50 years to liberalize Germany. He was right in both instances."

"Propaganda favoring the monarchy is persistent through the newspapers backed by the old armament trust. There is even a reaction of royalist revenge noticeable among schoolboys who did not suffer in the war and who in their unformed minds see the picture of the monarchy."

"The government in its present representative form—forced out whenever

Birdman Must Out Bride For Flight to North Pole

MRS. ELMER G. FULLERTON AND HER AVIATOR HUSBAND WHOM SHE WILL ALLOW TO RISK DEATH IN A FLIGHT ACROSS THE POLE TO FURTHER HIS CAREER.

BY PHILIP J. SINNOTT
EDMONTON, Alberta, July 14.—A perilous flight to the North Pole across 1600 miles of unpeopled Arctic wastes—a flight skilled aviators have called impossible and suicidal—will interrupt the honeymoon of Lieutenant Elmer G. Fullerton and his bride. Fullerton is the pilot who will guide Captain Roald Amundsen's plane on the most daring aviation feat in history, a non-stop flight from Alaska to Spitzbergen over the North Pole, with death as the penalty for any miscalculation or mishap.

"Avis Fullerton, the aviator's young bride, will await his return here. She will receive a farewell letter mailed from Point Barrow, Alaska, civilization's northernmost outpost on the American continent."

Then will come alliance until—

The telegraph wires flash news of Fullerton's safe arrival at Spitzbergen, or until—

Wanders from the frozen north bring back news that the expedition has failed.

"But he's going to win," insists Mrs. Fullerton, though there's a suspicion of tears in her eyes. "My husband is a cautious flyer who takes no unnecessary chances. If the flight is humanly possible, he'll make it safely."

"Why did I consent to let him go? Because Elmer loves flying more than anything else. Because I realize with him the pioneering possibilities of such a flight."

"This flight, if successful, will establish the commercial possibilities of aircraft."

"Besides, I feel this is the one big opportunity of Elmer's life as a flying pilot. If he succeeds, his future will be assured."

"I shan't worry. Elmer told me not to be troubled if I do not hear from him for a year, for he may reach Spitzbergen too late to get the boat out."

The Fullerton marriage grew out of a wartime romance. Fullerton met his bride when he was an aviation instructor at Eastbourne, England, and she was a British war nurse.

Both returned to Canada and the marriage took place at Montreal.

THIRD MEETING IS POSTPONED

Boston and Maine Stockholders Served With Notice of Injunction Move

BOSTON, July 14.—The annual meeting of the Boston & Maine stockholders was postponed for the third time today after stockholders and officials in attendance had been served with notice that injunction proceedings had been brought against the road by Edmund C. Codman, a minority shareholder. Adjournment was taken until Friday, July 27, pending a court decision on Codman's petition on which a hearing will be conducted Tuesday in the supreme court.

The petition seeks to restrain officers and agents of the New York Central railroad as operators of the Boston & Maine and the directors of the Boston & Maine from carrying out an alleged scheme to enable the New York Central to obtain "illegal control" over the Boston & Maine. It asks that certain named officials and agents of the two roads be permanently enjoined from voting at the Boston & Maine shareholders' meetings of counting the proxies held by them.

The petition also asks that the ballot already cast for Boston & Maine directors by President James H. Hustis, George H. Wallace and Arthur H. Nichols, representing the directors and Philip Dexter, Charles F. Adams and R. Sahr Welsh, representing stockholders of the Boston & Maine be declared illegal and expunged from the records.

In his petition Mr. Codman charges that a conspiracy exists to have Alfred H. Smith, president of the New York Central, elected chairman of the board of directors of the Boston & Maine with a view to giving control of the Boston & Maine unlawfully to the New York Central. It is further charged that a majority of the directors of the Boston & Maine have acceded to the alleged illegal combination and that they have obtained large numbers of proxies from stockholders for the purpose of re-electing the present board of directors at the annual meeting.

It was learned later that today's petition was filed by Mrs. Codman immediately after Judge Crosby of the supreme court had denied his previous petition for an injunction to prevent a declaration of the vote cast at the Boston & Maine meeting in May on 223,000 shares of stock held by the N.Y. N. H. & H. R. Co. These shares are in the custody of trustees appointed by the United States circuit court for the southern district of New York. Under the order of that court, the trustees were directed to vote for six directors nominated by the New York Central.

Codman as trustee holds 1579 shares of the Boston & Maine and proxies for 35,000 more shares. In his petition for an injunction he named Frederick H. Prince and Guy W. Currier among the defendants charging that they are acting as agents for the New York Central. He asserts that the alleged conspiracy is a violation of the Massachusetts statute forbidding unlawful combinations and that it is an attempt to form a voting trust by pooling the Boston & Maine stock

BROCKTON SHOE STORE EXPANSION

The Brockton shoe store, J. Smith, manager, 93 Gorham street, opposite the Lowell Opera House, has secured a long lease from the owner of the building and are contemplating expanding their present quarters. Extensive alterations are to be made inside and out and the remodeling of the store will begin very shortly. This enterprising store is now holding a great Expansion Sale, the stock of the store being entirely in the hands of a merchandise appraiser. The entire stock of the store must be cleaned out to make room for the workmen. The sale is to continue for 10 days and the appraiser has the power to sell at any price that will clean out this entire stock within that time. Mr. H. J. Ray, nationally known as the "New York Merchandise King," has the following to say in regard to the sale: "I have been sent here to sell out the entire stock from floor to ceiling, from cellar to roof. It has been turned over to me with positive instructions to sell, so sell I must! My low prices will turn this community into a seething mass of buyers. Cost and present prices will be entirely ignored in my eagerness to sell everything to the bare walls in a very brief time. You will not be disappointed in a single thing. My advertising is truthful and this sale will be the shoe selling sensation of the city. Don't take my word for it. Come; let your eyes be the judge."

Outing Well Deserved

year. No city really could get along without a rate and our everlasting thanks are due these people for the part they play in creating one.

Just on the stroke of twelve, the three members of the assessing board, Daniel E. Hogan, Wilfred J. Achin and John H. Dwyer, each with his own personal, private automobile, drew up in front of city hall and each took his proportionate number of the 15 young women clerks who work in the department. That would make five to a car—just a comfortable load, you say? Right. And not hard on the eyes you say? Right again—happy right!

Their objective was nowhere in particular, although the route lay along the beautiful North shore—Maximolia, Manchester, Bridge Crossing and other familiar summer watering places that aren't too hard to take, and where it really isn't a penance if one is forced there to spend a month or so.

This afternoon the outing will consist mainly of a ride, but as evening approaches, the steering wheels will be set in the direction of Bass Point, where the pleasure-seekers plan to have dinner. Later they may drift along toward the beaches nearer home—Revere, maybe.

Other clerks in the municipal building looked on with sorrowful eyes as the machines got underway and they could only say, "Well, you certainly have a good day for it."

In the 5th senatorial district, Senator Frank H. Putnam, is the only avowed candidate so far. Some time ago Andrew Barrett took out nomination papers for the fifth congressional district, in whose name is not known, but neither has taken out the necessary papers in circulation for several weeks.

The only other candidate for any office, who has taken out papers in this city, is David Dickson, who seeks place upon the republican city committee.

Frank K. Stearns and George E. Marchand have signed their intentions of running for the office of registrar of deeds for Middlesex county, but neither has taken out the necessary papers.

By districts, the candidates now actively in the several fights are as follows:

14th District
John J. McCarthy, 9 Phil street, democrat.
Frank J. Danahy, 80 Agawam street, democrat.
Richard J. Donohoe, 1 Brooks st., democrat.

The union position is said to be that a resumption of probation in the anthracite field would, by augmenting the coal supply, lessen public pressure for the settlement of the bituminous strike.

department relative to the matter of group insurance for members of the fire-fighting brigade. Afterward, he met a friend, who gave him, as a treat, a small glass of rhubarb wine, and the light intoxicant proved so enticing that he broke his long drought. He felt no after effect until he reached the outskirts of Lowell, when he suddenly became intoxicated. He proceeded slowly, but despite his caution he had a slight collision with a car in Bridge street, just off the square. He offered a statement from his physician, in proof of his story, and he and his attorney swore to the truth of the story of high blood pressure, requiring attention from alcoholics. Judge Fisher believed the story and ordered the case placed on file.

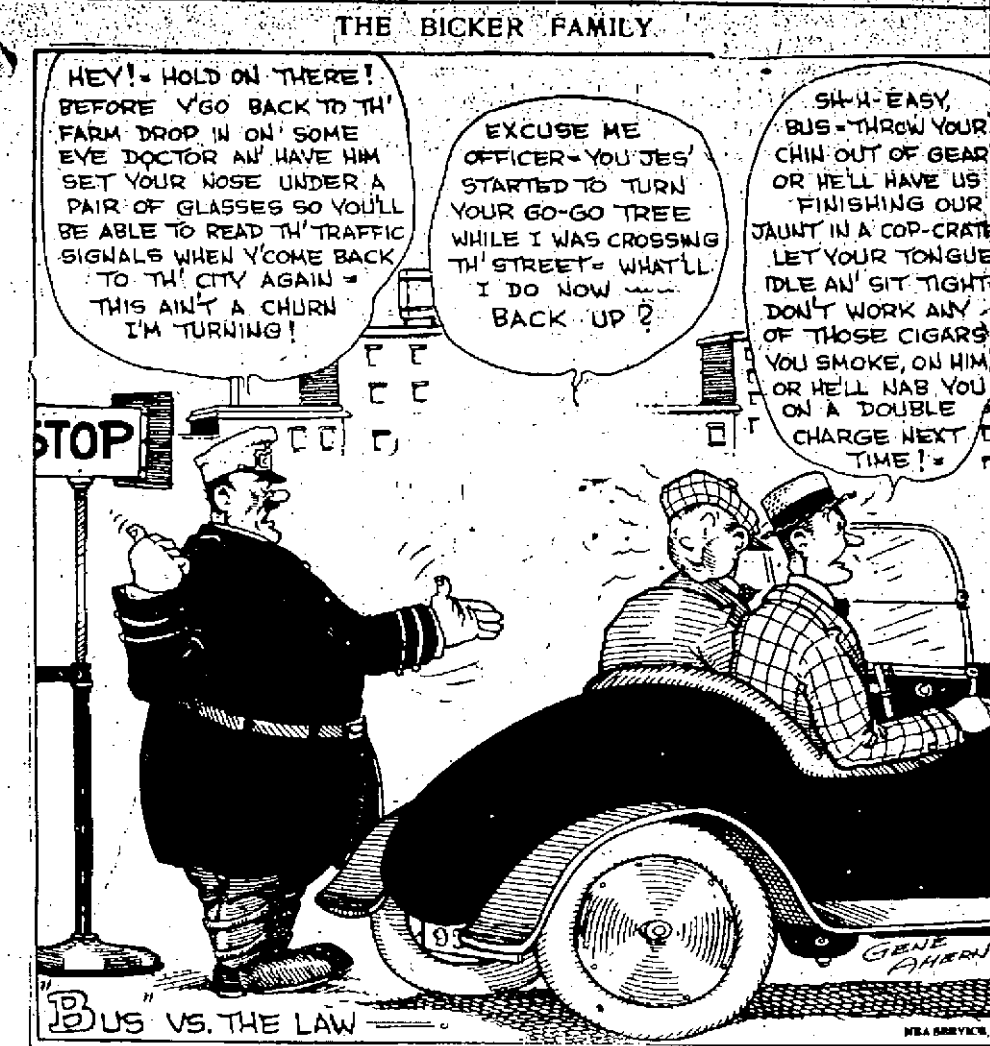

Fine in Liquor Case
The sum of $100 was added to the treasury during the trial of liquor cases. Antonio Silva, accompanied by John Romar, was arraigned for illegal keeping. Romar immediately assumed all the blame and entered a plea of guilty. He paid a fine of $100 and Silva was dismissed.

This story dates back to the night of June 24, when Motorcycle Officer Michael J. Connors observed two men running across Gorham street and into Bent's court. Pursuing them, he found that the two sacks, one of which each had been carrying over his shoulder, contained 16-gallon jugs of what appeared to be moonshine. The arrest of the two men was accomplished with the assistance of members of the liquor squad, Officers Owen Conway and Thomas O'Sullivan, and the men were booked on suspicion of larceny, as a technical holding charge, and were hauled out before Capt. Palmer and his assistants appeared in the morning. Rearrested, they were charged with illegal keeping.

Two other cases were continued until July 21. Edward J. Campbell is charged with illegal keeping, and maintaining a liquor store, and John Spellacy will be called upon to answer to the nuisance charge.

Other Offenders
Athenese Bottefolo, who was stabbed according to the complaint, by Michael Kazamias on the night of July 4, was unable to leave the hospital this morning, and the case of Kazamias, assault with a dangerous weapon, will be held on July 23. The bond is set at $1000.

Keeping an unlicensed dog was the charge against Peter Mical, and he escaped with the payment of costs, 50 cents. He admitted that he allowed his dog to run up and down the streets, and had heard complaints relative to his biting propensities.

Mayor George H. Brown today vetoed the vote of censure, passed upon his method of procedure in the purchase of a Packard touring car, by the city council at its meeting on July 6.

He also vetoed the order authorizing the city clerk to engage counsel to file injunction proceedings on behalf of the council to prevent the purchase of the car being paid, and another order, through which the city auditor was directed not to prepare a draft for the payment of the car until the matter was presented to him in legal form.

The three vetoes that sprang from the point of the majority pen were presented to the city clerk shortly before 12:30 o'clock this noon, to be presented to the council at its meeting next Thursday night.

However, at least two hours before the vetoes were filed, the Packard touring car had been paid for by the city of Lowell, when a check in the amount of $2995, made out in the name of the city, was cashed.

SOME KICK IN THE RHUBARB WINE THAT WAS SERVED MR. BROWN

Man from Rhode Island, Arrested in Merrimack Square Yesterday, Released in District Court Today—Said Rhubarb Wine and High Blood Pressure Was Responsible for His Trouble Yesterday and the Judge Believed Him

One small glass of rhubarb wine, combined with a blood pressure of 324, was the cause of Joseph R. Brown's collision with another car in Merrimack square yesterday afternoon and his subsequent apprehension by Traffic Supervisor Edward Connors, being booked at police headquarters for drunkenness and operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. This was the story told to Judge Fisher in district court today, and it provided sufficient reason for Brown's release.

According to Brown's story, brought out under the questioning of his attorney, he had not taken a drink in 20 years until yesterday. Engaged as an insurance agent in Concord Junction, R. I., he journeyed to Methuen, Mass., yesterday, where he stated, he held a conference with the chief of the fire department.

ALLEN BLOCKS COURT ACTION

Pierce Was Charged With Conspiracy to Corrupt
Justice

Attorney General's Action
Based on Findings of Legislature

BOSTON, July 15.—Attorney General J. Weston Allen today not pressed an indictment charging Supreme Court Justice Edward P. Pierce with conspiring to obstruct justice.

Petitioners who sought the removal of Justice Pierce by the legislature last spring on the ground that he had accepted gratuities from litigants were given leave to withdraw a few weeks ago by the special legislative committee appointed to hear the charges. It was alleged that the justice had conspired with W. Edwin Ulmer, attorney for the Waban Rose conservatories and the Henry Wood Sons Co., and that he had accepted from Ulmer numerous gifts of flowers.

The indictment was based on the same general charges. It alleged that Justice Pierce had conspired to deprive certain persons of property rights.

Made Memorandum
Attorney General Allen in a memorandum said that after examining all available evidence on which the indictment was based as well as the record of the legislative hearing, he was unable to avoid the conclusion that the evidence did not warrant placing Justice Pierce on trial. He added that he would not further prosecute the indictment.

"In making this memorandum," the attorney general continued, "I deem it appropriate to place upon the record the further fact that upon all the evidence before me and all the information that has come into my possession, I am of the opinion that this

The biggest mass meeting ever held on the South Common took place last night when close to 10,000 men and women gathered around the bandstand to listen to addresses by labor leaders, the topic of discussion being the reasons for the strike at the Boston & Maine car shops in Billerica.

The meeting took place immediately at the close of the Twilight League baseball game and was preceded by a concert given by a picked band of 20 musicians under the leadership of T. P. McCarthy. The musicians are all members of the Lowell Musicians' association and gave their services free of charge.

The principal speaker of the evening was Robert F. Fisher of Boston, vice president of the International Association of Machinists, who set forth the strikers' side of the argument, condemning the action of the federal labor board and criticizing the action of President Harding in the present struggle. Other speakers were Edward McMillan of the Bellmarmakers' union, Parker F. Murphy of the Trades and Labor Council, and Thomas F. Gelling of the federated crafts.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. Gelling, who in his opening remarks explained the purpose of the gathering and said if the strike is lost it will mean the breaking of the backbone of the American Federation of Labor. He said the fight was that of the public in general as well as that of the employees of the railroads. He urged the public not to pay any attention to the propaganda that is being circulated by railroad officials and said the strike will be won by the strikers for they are in it to the finish.

McMillan reviewed in brief the actions and decisions of the federal railroad labor board during the past year. He said the board had been established to protect the public interest, but it had failed to do so. He said the board had been established to protect the public interest, but it had failed to do so.

White House Officials Still Hopeful That Something
May Bring End

Only Slight Disturbances Reported From Two Areas in Southwest Section

The latest developments in the rail strike situation up to noon today are: White House officials still expressed hope of peace today, despite the apparent failure of railroad labor members to obtain a settlement.

Railroad executives on the other hand, had practically abandoned all hope and prepared to open all shops with non-union men, while the national strike committee conferred over yesterday's peace proposals. Investigators for Secretary of War Weeks and Governor Neff of Texas were to report on whether troops should be sent to protect railroad property at Denison.

Slight disorders occurred at Carbondale, Pa., and Chattanooga, Pa. All other trouble centers reported quiet.

The postoffice department inaugurated motor bus transport between Bedford and Switz City, Ind.

The American Federation of Railroad Workers' local at Cleveland voted to go on strike next Monday. Many members have already quit.

May Call Out 400,000
NEW YORK, July 15.—Prediction that E. F. Grable, president of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Railway Shop Workers, would issue a strike order to the 400,000 men of his union "at any hour," was made today by William Parker, leader of the New York Central Maintenance of Way men, and president of the union's association of eastern chairmen.

Abandon Hope
CHICAGO, July 15.—Virtually abandoning hope of an early settlement of the railroad strike, following the failure of last night's conferences, railroad executives today prepared to make a determined effort to reopen shops with non-union employees, according to a high official of the United States Railroad Labor board.

The stumbling block in the path of settlement, it was said at the railroad board, will be the union's demand for restoration of seniority and other privileges to the strikers.

The roads indicated to Chairman Hooper that the men who have stuck by their employers and the new employees enlisted will be protected in the seniority they have thereby attained.

Use Motor Trucks
WASHINGTON, July 15.—Inauguration of the use of motor trucks to transport the mails due to the inability of railroads to move mail matter on account of the shopmen's strike was announced today by Postmaster General Work, who said it had been determined to use motor transportation between Bedford and Switz City, Ind., between which two points all mail-trains had been anguished.

Fail to Report
NEW YORK, July 15.—Several hundred stationary firemen and others in the New York district failed to report for work today. According to union officials, though the strike action mentioned Monday as the time for the walkout. Scores of the firemen and others had already gone out, as had many of the maintenance men in sympathy.

CANDIDATES FILE PAPERS

Three Representative Districts
Are Being Turned Into Battle Grounds

Thomas J. Corbett Took Out
Nomination Papers Today
—List of Candidates

With the final date for filing nomination papers only one month away, the three representative districts that embrace all the Lowell wards are rapidly being turned into battle grounds. Candidates have appeared in rapid succession of late, particularly the 16th, where six men already have tossed their hats into the circle to fight for the place now held by Rep. Thomas J. Corbett. Mr. Corbett himself took out nomination papers today. This is the smallest district of the three, comprising Wards 4 and 5.

The 15th district—Wards 1, 2 and 9—has seven avowed candidates for two positions. Representatives Charles H. Stowey and Owen Brennan are the present incumbents and the former has taken out papers for renomination and re-election.

The 16th district, which takes in Wards 3, 6, 7 and 8, has Representative Jewett and Achin and three others already in the field for the three posts to be filled. Adolphe Berard, the third representative from this district

SAY POLICE OFFICERS ARE CARRYING RIFLES

That the police officers at the Boston & Maine car shops in Billerica are armed with repeating rifles is the statement made today at strike headquarters.

"These guns are surely not intended for the pickets," said one of the members of the press committee today, "for our men do not trespass upon the company's land and are always stationed a great distance from the plant. I will not comment further on the matter, but will let the public draw their own conclusion."

According to the strikers the number of strikebreakers employed at the plant this morning was 850, and it is said that of that number 120 were scheduled to be fired at noon. The press committee did not explain how it came by the knowledge that 120 would be fired at noon. It was also stated that over 100 were discharged yesterday.

The various crafts of the shops held their daily roll call at headquarters this morning and at noon it was stated that about 200 of the strikers have secured work elsewhere. A great number of the men whose homes were formerly in Keene and Concord, N. H., have gone back home until the strike

QUINCY, July 15.—Senator Lodge has assured Mayor Bradford of this city in a telegram that the navy department had sent official notice to the Fore River plant of the Bethlehem Steel corporation to proceed at once to convert the battle cruiser Lexington into an airplane carrier. Construction on this vessel was halted during the Washington arms conference when she was 35 per cent complete.

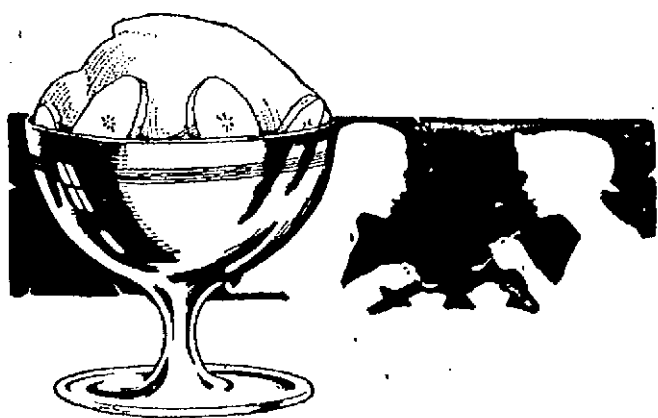

At present there are 2800 men employed at the yards, and it was stated that this order would necessitate the employment of an additional 2000 men who would be kept busy for at least two years.

A NEW SILHOUETTE IS ON THE WAY

Here is a coming fashion in the act of casting its shadow before. Almost imperceptibly it has come about—the armhole has grown much smaller, sleeves are long and thin and ripple out around the wrists, the bodice is fitted, the skirt full and rippling around the bottom, the neckline is no longer round but square.

Suggestions of this change have reached us for the past two seasons and the shops show summer dresses more and more approaching this silhouette. They are shown especially for girls and young women and are decidedly becoming to youthful faces and figures.

Organdie and Swiss are the favorite materials for dresses of this fashion, since their stiffness makes the new silhouette even more pronounced.

MACKEREL IN JELLY GREAT SUMMER DISH

BY BERTHA E. SHAPLEIGH.
Cooking Authority for N.E.A. Service and Columbia University.

During hot weather plan to have fish and meat alternates cold instead of hot. The following recipe is very good and hearty enough to be served as the main dish for luncheon or supper. Any fish may be used in the same way.

1 two-pound mackerel
2 cups cold water
1 small piece bay leaf
2 slices onion
1 sprig parsley
2 teaspoons of salt
1 tablespoon vinegar
2 tablespoons of granulated gelatin

1/2 cup of cold water
1 cup of sour cream
2 tablespoons grated horse-radish
1 tablespoon vinegar
Salt to taste

Cut off head and tail of mackerel and cook in the water with the seasonings, salt and vinegar until tender.

Take from the water, remove skin and bones and separate into small pieces. Strain the liquid remaining and add boiling water to make two cups.

Add the gelatin which has been dissolved in the cold water, season with salt and pepper and allow it to become cool.

As it begins to set add the mackerel and turn into molds which have been dipped in cold water. Set away to harden.

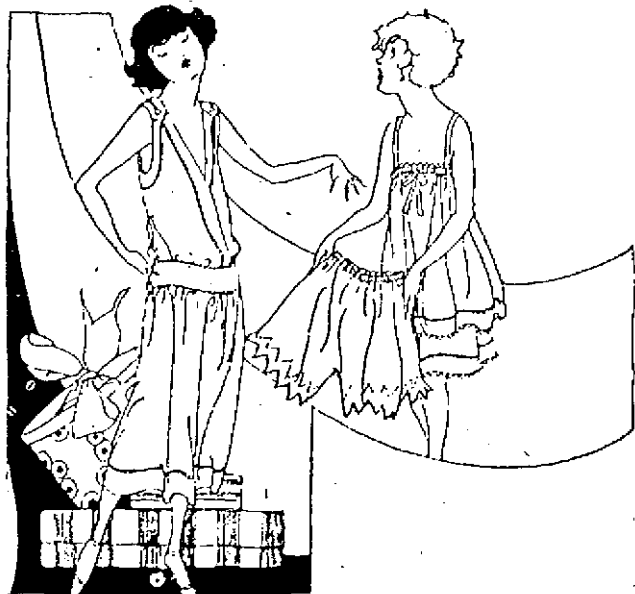

At serving time, unmold on lettuce leaves and serve with the sour cream beaten until stiff, to which has been added the horseradish and seasoning.

A Sunday at the Strand
A Boston jazz orchestra will accompany the vaudeville acts at the Strand on Sunday. This feature, to enhance the presentation of Com-will surely prove a big attraction at this theatre tomorrow. Apart from unusual quality, there is another consideration in connection with the bill that should serve to attract the crowds, and that is the general comfort and convenience to the patrons. It's always cool and beautiful at the Strand. It's worth the price of admission alone to enjoy the comforts that are to be had. The vaudeville features include the famous Trio Shilley & Sherwood, Anthony and Evelyn Harriott.

GREENS
All shades of green are going to be fashionable this winter. The newest tones are fern green, director's green and Moroccan green. The last is an especially soft, deep shade.

COLORS
It is rumored the silk lingerie for fall will not include many colorings and that flesh-colored materials will be the most popular.

Sheer Summer Dresses Bring Costume Slips Into Favor

The underlying principles of good dress, it may be observed this season, are very simple.

One garment that has come rapidly into favor is the costume slip. This is a simple garment that combines brassiere or corset cover with petticoat—made necessary by sheer summer frocks.

This top may be either square or "V"-shaped, according to the garment it is to be worn under, and is often low waisted and floured so that it does not impair the line of the silhouette.

Worn with the costume slip is the newly popular step-in either with or without a chemise.

Materials of all kinds are used and all light colors are most popular. However, since this is a "white season" lingerie is also shown in all white or in white edged with pastel colors.

WEARS MONOGRAM ON HER SWEATER

One of the latest Paris styles was recently introduced in this country by Mrs. Sylvanus Stokes.

Her stylish sweater costume has a triangular cutout in which her monogram is elaborately woven.

She introduced this costume at Daffey's Beach to the fashionable Newport colony.

SHE GETS JOB AS BANK CHIEF

MYRTLE COOPER

The first woman to receive the post of bank manager is Myrtle Cooper of Los Angeles.

She has formerly assumed the management of the Vermont avenue branch of the Citizens Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles.

Telegrams congratulating her upon the appointment were immediately wired by W. J. Fitzwilliam, secretary of the American Bankers' association; the National League of Women Voters, the Woman's Suffrage Association and many other national organizations.

Printed and solid embroidered crepes are very fashionable. They lend themselves admirably to draping and require no trimming.

SUIT IS PRACTICAL AND DECORATIVE, TOO

Here is a swimming suit to delight the swimmer who wants a decorative costume as well as a practical one.

The best possible use has been made of some black and whitestriped wool.

The bathing cap has a good sized rose of rubber of a type hardy enough to weather any storm.

BROWN

More brown is seen as the season advances, and style authorities say it will be one of the leading colors for fall and winter. Just now brown lace is very smart.

SWEATERS

Some of the newest silk sweaters come in with very fine mesh and are heavily embroidered, giving the effect of a blouse rather than a sweater. They have long fringed scarfs to match.

HAND BAGS

Persian cashmere hand bags are one of the most recent novelties to reach this side of the water. They are mounted on silver or dark metal.

HATEAU LINE

The wide hateau neckline, which has been used on all sorts of dresses promises to give way to other varieties. (The "V" neck is coming back.)

LINGERIE

Paris designers say that the price of lingerie will go down perceptibly this season as the cost of handwork and materials make this impossible.

CAVES

Gapes of camel's hair are highly desirable for summer as they may be used as raincoats as well. They were featured at the recent Ascot races in England.

CHIN COLLARS

Chin collars are being featured on the fur coats now made up for winter instead of the shawl and wide collars so much used last season.

LACE COATS

The newest lace coats are made of silk lace woven in patterns resembling coarse chintilly. They come in delicate shades of lavender, blue and pink, and usually are worn with white.

Mrs. Linton Tells How Helpful Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is at This Period

Denver, Colorado.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for seven years and I cannot tell you the good it has done me. It is good for young and old and I always keep a bottle of it in the house, for I am at that time of life when it calls for Lydia E. Pinkham's help. My husband saw your ad. in the papers and said 'You have taken everything you can think of, now I want you to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.' So I let him get it, and I soon felt better and he told me 'I want you to take about six bottles.' So I did and I keep house and do all my own work and work out by the day and feel fine now. I tell every one about the Vegetable Compound, for so many of my friends thought I would not get well."—Mrs. R. J. LINTON, 1850 West 33d Avenue, Denver, Colorado.

After reading letters like the above, and we are constantly publishing them, why should any woman hesitate to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound if she is in need of help? It brings relief where other medicines fail.

"Mona Lisa Smile" Wins Thirty-Five Hundred Proposals

EDITH MAE PATTERSON, ARKANSAS SCHOOLTEACHER, AND THE "MONA LISA SMILE" THAT WON HER $500 PROPOSALS.

(By N.E.A. Service)
PINE BLUFF, Ark., July 15.—Three thousand five hundred proposals of marriage!

Edith Mae Patterson, young "schoolmarm" here, has received that many.

And has rejected every one of them. Some of them she hasn't even read. Eight months ago, Miss Patterson's aunt, without Miss Patterson's knowledge, entered the schoolteacher's photograph in a state beauty contest. A little later along came a check for $1000—Miss Patterson had won first prize. Immediately her fame as "the girl with the Mona Lisa smile" began to spread and proposals began to rain in by mail and telegraph.

Then a contest to find the prettiest girl in the United States started. Miss Patterson entered. She won the first prize of $2500.

More proposals. Hundreds of 'em. All Miss Patterson's friends were kept busy opening them.

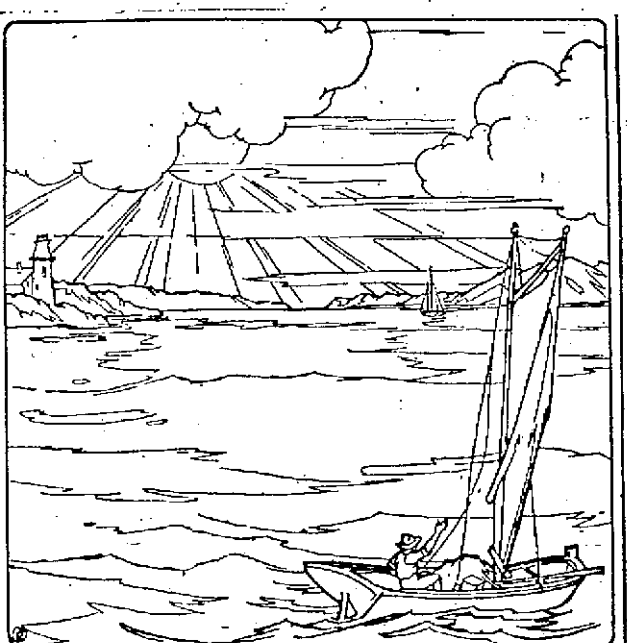

Now the little schoolteacher has entered an international beauty contest. Pine Bluff people are confident she'll win. If she does, it will be her last contest, she says.

"Compelling isn't half as interesting as teaching school," she says.

Marriage? Not until the right man comes, says Miss Patterson and smiles the Mona Lisa smile.

POLICE CHIEF'S ORDERS

Supt. Atkinson Instructs
Patrolmen Relative to Liquor Law Enforcement

Supt. Thomas R. Atkinson took his first definite step since assuming office in the enforcement of the prohibitory laws, when he instructed every patrolman on the force to take the names of suspicious places and turn them in at headquarters, thus sharing responsibility with the liquor officers. The order was read last night, as follows:

Office of the Superintendent of Police: Patrolmen are directed to keep a close watch on all places where intoxicating liquors are suspected of being sold. Make notation of traffic, etc., and make a report in writing of all cases which come to their attention. The liquor squad, I believe, is doing an excellent work, but it must have the co-operation of the patrolmen who will be held responsible for their part in enforcing the law.

Two patrolmen, Joseph Craig and Morris Shapiro, were recipients of public commendation by Supt. Atkinson yesterday. Patrolman Craig for making an important arrest and Patrolman Shapiro for rescuing a child from the front of an auto truck. The two commendations follow:

Patrolman Morris Shapiro is hereby commended for his prompt action on July 5 at 7:30 p. m. in saving a two-year-old child, the daughter of Fred Taylor, 124 Concord street, from serious injury and probable death. At the time aforesaid the child ran out from behind an automobile and directly in the path of a heavily laden auto truck. The officer seeing to the rescue, grabbed the child and carried it to safety, barely escaping himself from being crushed by the onrushing car. Acts of this kind help to raise the public estimation of the police department. Officers not only cover themselves with credit in the eyes of the people but they bring credit to the entire department.

My attention was first called to this matter by a passing autoist, Mrs. Paul Choate of Hartford, Conn., whose story is corroborated by Lewis P. Monroe, 121 Concord street, Lowell.

This order will be read at all roll calls.

Patrolman Joseph Craig is hereby commended for the arrest of William McWilliams, a burglar who broke into the store of Vera Murphy, 52 Thordike street, about 2 a. m., on July 12. By the arrest, evidence was secured which caused the apprehension of the "hot" George Shay, and the recovery of the stolen property. The alertness of the officer in this case is worthy of emulation and brings credit to the department. This order will be read at all roll calls.

THOMAS R. ATKINSON,
Superintendent of Police.

Tom Meighan's Next Loses
Force Through Elaboration

TOM MEIGHAN AND PAULINE STARKE HAVE THE LEADING ROLES IN "IF YOU BELIEVE IT, IT'S SO," BUT THOMPSON ROBERTS AND HIS BEARD ATTRACT THE EYE JUST AS MUCH—OR MORE.

BY JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, July 15.—Thomas Meighan's latest starring film, "If You Believe It, It's So," is another picture that falls short of its opportunity because the director has gone beyond the scope of the camera in trying to make the story effective.

The story is much like that of "The Miracle Man," the late George Loane Tucker's masterpiece, dealing with the regeneration of a city crook through association with wholesome rural folk. Indeed, Tucker had intended to film this story as a starring vehicle for Meighan. The present director is Tom Forman.

"The Miracle Man," stands as one of filmdom's greatest works because of its simplicity of treatment. The drawing of morals, the preachment of ideals was left for the photographed action.

In "If You Believe It, It's So," the preachment is mostly in subtitles and one of those artificial beginnings which tells you the import of the story before it begins.

This latter fallacy seems to be common among film directors. Why tell a spectator what he's going to see before he sees it? That's like reading the last chapter of a book first.

The gist of "If You Believe It, It's So" is that if you believe you can lead a better life in new surroundings, you can. That, more than the supposition that all people who live in rural communities are saintly because of their surroundings.

Meighan, as a crook tired of a crook's life, goes to a small town as a soap salesman. He becomes a real estate salesman and insurance solicitor and a leader in community life.

Then Theodore Roberts arrives in silk topper and flowing beard, a benighted old man who takes ponies off a dead man's eyes and then leads a prayer.

Meighan frustrates his plan to flee the rural lambs and sends him out of town. He overcomes the machinations of local petty crooks and the picture ends in an embrace with an unsophisticated maiden.

That's just the kind of film it is. It tells a story and that's all. You enjoy it while you're watching it, chiefly because of the fine work done by Theodore Roberts, Charles Ogle, Ed Brady and the star, but you forget it after you've left the theatre.

Any picture that deals with the regeneration of the human soul should have some definite reaction on the spectator.

Some may wonder why the name of Pauline Starke, leading lady, was omitted from the complimentary passage on the work of the cast. I believe Pauline Starke is one of the most promising actresses now playing, but her work in this picture is not above the standard of that of a novice. Indeed, a novice might have shown some inspiration in her playing.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE STRAND THEATRE

Mae Murray at the Strand During the Coming Week—Constance Talmadge in "Wedding Bells" Sunday

Daring, dashing Mae Murray, assisted by Rudolph Valentino and other celebrities of the screen, will appear on the Strand screen during the coming week in "The Delicious Little Devil," a picture play best suited to the display of the exceptional talent of this exceptional cast. Besides this big treat Betty Compson in "Always" will be shown on the same bill, making what is termed the million-dollar cast. You can't afford to miss this unusual offering during the first three days of the week. Then for the last three days, starting Thursday, Alice Lake in "The Golden Gift" and Earle Williams in "Lucky Carson" will be the offering.

For the Sunday concert, Constance Talmadge will be shown in "Wedding Bells," said to be one of her choicest bits of screen endeavor. There will be light and musical comedy and other new picture plays.

"The Delicious Little Devil" presents Mae Murray in the role of Mary Sullivan, a young woman who is forced to contribute to the support of herself and others of her family. She does it by dancing. Rudolph Valentino is seen as Jimmy Calhoun, Mary's sweetheart, and the pair are to inject a full measure of entertainment in their respective parts.

The story, briefly told, is that of a girl of the slums who becomes a dancer in a fast cabaret solely on the strength of the lurid past of a famed Parisian dancer whom she impersonates. She is called upon to live up to this reputation, but succeeds in putting off the discovery of the fact that she is only playing a part, until the lover of the real Parisian drops in on the scene. She is rescued by a young chap who is madly in love with her. This is the role played by Valentino. What happens when the forelorn is allowed to report on the pair, unless she consents to accept his advances makes this one of the most thrilling of all features.

Betty Compson will be seen in her second starring screen vehicle called "Always the Woman." The star will portray the role of Colla Thaxter, a slang New York girl, who was trained in the hard school of cheap vaudeville, and who is en route to the Orient with a travelling troupe on a Mediterranean steamer. She, inspired by the unholy love of Kelim Pasha, an eminent Egyptian statesman, who cannot make advances to her, Kelim directs one of his henchmen to make love for him. There are complications and a most interesting nature that develop from then on and carry the scenes to the desert wastes where wonderful scenic effects contribute to a most gripping and thrilling melodrama that has a delightful finale. The photography is exceptional, the cast above the average, the star at her best and the story most noticeable.

"The Golden Gift," Alice Lake's

latest starring picture, is a photodrama of unusual power and action, which pictures the adventures of a young opera singer who, deserted by her husband, attempts to earn a living for herself and child by performing in a border cafe. But the child is a hindrance to her, career and while the mother becomes a famous opera singer, the child is left to strangers.

At the height of the singer's career the child unexpectedly appears and plays a thrilling part in a romantic situation. John Powers, Harriet Hammond and others are in the supporting cast.

Lucky Carson, the other week-end feature, is an adaptation of the widely read novel, "Salvage" and furnishes Earle Williams with a role in which he rises to new heights of dramatic ability. It's a character of contrasts—showing him as down-and-out ready to end his life in the cold, black waters of the river Thames, and then by happy accident his whole career changes and he sails for America, where he corners cotton and becomes a millionaire after making several hundred thousand dollars.

Remember it's always cool, comfortable and healthful at the Strand.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Dorothy Dalton in "The Crimson Challenge" Leading Feature for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday

One of James Oliver Curwood's most noted attractions, "God's Country and the Law," will be the feature attraction at the Merrimack Square theatre during the week ending Saturday. It is a story of a man's struggle with the law, and is a specially selected cast. The usual excellent surrounding program will also be presented.

The leading features for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be Dorothy Dalton in "The Crimson Challenge," one of the capable star's most appealing productions, and "The Man Unconquerable," starring popular Jack Holt.

Dorothy Dalton has a role in "The Crimson Challenge" admirably suited to her style of portrayal. It was in a similar type of character that she first won popularity as the heroine of "The Crimson Challenge," she portrays the role of a girl in a lawless western community, who becomes a leader of the people against a scoundrel, and in a story allied with tense dramatic moments, finally triumphs over him, avenging the death of her father, who she had shot in cold blood from ambush.

"The Crimson Challenge" is based on a novel by Vingie Roe. In this story the author has created a picture of the picturesque people of the early west. She chose for the locale of her story a valley isolated from the outside world except by a narrow dangerous pass, and a spot in which lawlessness was rampant. The book is a gripping western story, with suspense, deeply dramatic situations and heart interest. It is widely known under the title, "Tharon of Lost Valley."

She won popularity by a long list of successes produced by Thomas H. Ince, the author of "The Crimson Challenge," a story of a man's struggle with the law, and is a specially selected cast. The usual excellent surrounding program will also be presented.

Miss Dalton combines rare feminine charm with the nobler qualities of courage, bravery and strong character in her portrayal. second feature for the first half of the week, Mr. Holt has the role of a young man who believed that peace and kind words could accomplish anything and who was not inclined to change his views even when he found his peering grounds being despoiled by ruthless. But the scorn of a girl whipped him into action and her smile at his success was the reward that came to him.

Atmospherically, the picture is almost as good as a trip down into the southern seas, for it has the settings and locations of that part of the world reproduced with an adherence to detail that is quite delightful. In action it is swift and exciting, while the story is logical and convincing. The cast is quite capable, the most prominent among the players being Sylvia Dromm, leading woman; Clarence Burton, Jean de Hillo and Edwin Steffen.

A comedy and the latest International News will complete the bill. For Thursday, Friday and Saturday the leading attractions will be "Two Minutes to Go," starring Charles Ray, and Constance Binney in "The Sleep Walker," one of her funniest comedies.

POLISH-AMERICAN CITIZENS CLUB

The Polish-American Citizens' club, for the past three years located at 52 Coburn street, is preparing to move to its new headquarters at 73 Lakeview avenue, where extensive remodeling is now going on. It is expected that the new quarters will be ready for occupancy in a week or two, when the building will be formally opened with an elaborate celebration.

The club has met with great success since its incorporation in 1919, and its members have done much good in social and Americanization work. During the winter months a class in citizenship is conducted with competent teachers in charge, who instruct prospective citizens in the ideals and principles of American democracy. Noticeable strides of advancement have been made in this connection, and the club is recognized as a valuable addition to Polish-American circles in this city.

The present officers are as follows: President, Joseph Urlik; secretary, Francis Zacharek; treasurer, Michael Ackerman.

TARIFF ISSUE HOLDS SENATORS ON GRIDIRON AT WASHINGTON

Democrats Charged With Filibustering—Senator Walsh Commands Attention on Tariff—Harrison Hurls Onslaughts at Harding Administration—President Says Country Needs More Congressional Singing and Fewer Soloists—Other Notes

Special to The Sun
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—With huge electric fans buzzing overhead, with frazzled nervous senators mopping their faces and wailing palm leaf fans; with the mercury registering high in the 90s and a humidity unknown to New England even in the most sultry dog days, the senate discussion of the tariff bill goes on. The republicans trying in vain to break through the wall of opposition that blocks the way to its passage. There is revolt in republican ranks over the pending bill as well as a determined effort on the part of the democrats to secure less extreme duties on commodities which they regard as essential for the good of the country. In a determination to put off as far as possible the ill-fated day when the bill shall pass and also to secure modification of some of its schedules, the democrats are accused of conducting an organized filibuster along the lines that the republicans resorted to in the early Wilson administration when certain shipping bills were before the senate and went down to defeat at the last moment by the automatic ending of the session. For instance, Senator Tom Heflin of Alabama has already made no less than 18 speeches of considerable length on the "sins and iniquity" of the federal reserve board, talking in the time nominally allotted to the tariff bill. And when Heflin swings out his long arms and shouts denunciations of the republican administration and congress, the galleries sit up and take notice, often breaking into shouts of laughter at the Heflin jokes and stories which partly illustrate points he wishes to make. Of course the vice president quickly restores order by sharp raps of his gavel and threats to clear the galleries if such incidents again occur, but Heflin keeps right on along the same line, and the galleries merely chuckle next time and keep their seats. But Heflin is not the only southern senator to take advantage of the freedom of speech allowed by the senate rules. Caraway and Robinson of Arkansas and King of Utah run him a close second and some very clever blocking of republican wheels is being done.

Senator Walsh
Walsh of Massachusetts has done considerable talking but it has been along the line of protesting what he believes to be New England's interests and not in the nature of a filibuster. When Senator David I. Walsh has talked he has said something well worth listening to and his colleagues have given him suggestions, courteous attention, and sometimes changed schedules to meet his approval. It is understood that Senator Walsh will take no active part in the Massachusetts primaries preferring to regard each candidate from a friendly viewpoint. If the final contest for the senatorship should rest between Lodge and Col. Gaston or Sherman, La. Whipple, all Washington will watch the result with especial interest for of course Lodge is one of the best known men in congress, owing not only to his seniority in service but also as republican leader of the senate. Whipple is well known here through his frequent appearances before the U. S.

supreme court and at hearings where he has represented various parties. Col. Gaston is known as an advanced type of business man with political aspirations.

Senator Harrison's Onslaughts
Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi who is one of the most vigorous and persistent denouncers of the policies of President Harding and the republican party as can be found in congress, recently had as his personal guests several old confederate war veterans from down in his home state. President Harding was informed of their presence in the city and at once got word to Harrison that if he would bring his guests to the White House, he would be glad to see them. So down to the White House went Senator Harrison and his aged constituents, where President Harding gave them all a most cordial welcome and talked informally with them for some minutes right in the midst of one of his busiest days. As soon as Senator Harrison got back to the senate he secured the floor and immediately opened up one of his broadside attacks on the Harding administration, grinning broadly as he did so. All of which shows that the Harrison onslaughts are directed at policies and not persons, for Harrison is reckoned as a "good fellow" even by his republican adversaries and their battles leave nothing more serious than skin-deep wounds. It's a political game that congress is now playing on both sides of the aisle that separates the republicans from the democrats and although the reading public may take the mutual recriminations and accusations with a grain of salt, the senate itself does not do so. It realizes it is election year and the time is close at hand when counting votes gives one or the other of the two great parties control for the next two years.

What Country Needs
President Harding hit the nail right on the head when he recently remarked "What the country needs is more congressional singing and fewer soloists whose egotism makes them clamor for prominence." It is very evident in Washington, as elsewhere, that too many politicians and factions are trying to sing different songs at the same time and in different keys. The Washington Post in commenting on the president's advice said: "Let's take the president's advice and not try to mix 'Onward, Christian Soldiers' with 'There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight.' Let's have a little old fashioned melody once in a while and all join in singing 'My Country, 'Tis of Thee' with the president leading the congregation." The New Party
Projectors of the proposed new party are said to be already at loggerheads as to whether it shall be disgruntled democrats or disgruntled republicans that shall lead the procession and hold the highest offices. For it's pretty well known that the new party will make up only of persons who have failed to get what they want out of the two great parties already existing.

A MEDICINE MADE FROM FRUIT

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" is Intensified Juices of Apples, Oranges, Figs and Prunes

COMBINED WITH TONICS

The extraordinary powers of "Fruit-a-tives" or "Fruit Laxo Tablets" in curing disease are due to one fact, and one fact only—IT IS A GENUINE FRUIT MEDICINE, MADE FROM THE JUICES OF FRESH, RIPE FRUITS.

By a remarkable discovery of one of the leading physicians, the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes are transformed into a new compound which has all the medicinal properties of fresh fruit and in a more marked degree.

To these intensified fruit juices are added tonics and antiseptics, and the entire value of "Fruit-a-tives" is due to this unique combination of fruit juices and tonics.

"Fruit-a-tives" has proved its remarkable value in thousands and thousands of cases of Stomach, Liver and Kidney Trouble—In Headaches, Rheumatism and Neuralgia—in chronic Constipation and Dyspepsia—in Nervousness, Skin Diseases, Poor Blood and a general run-down condition of the system.

There is no substitute for "Fruit-a-tives" because these "Fruit Laxo Tablets" are the only medicine in the world made from fruit juices.

of the house to be found in the city now and the six weeks' recess is an actual fact. The senate is keeping a quorum notwithstanding the intense heat and the equally intense desire on the part of one-third of the senate to get back home and look after the political fences which must stand a heavy strain both at the primary and November elections. Taking the fate of New of Indiana and McCumber of North Dakota as examples, it does not promise well for the men tied close to their seats while their campaigns are in progress. Both those men went down to defeat. Hale of Maine who went home only a few days before the primary is the only man who stood his ground here who won out with what might be called a handsome majority. But both the prestige of the Hale name in Maine and the fact that the Maine record for half a century can show no change in selecting a republican senator after the first fight for nomination was settled, may have had something to do with it, although Hale has unquestionably made an excellent senator in representing the hopes and wishes of the Pine Tree State.

New Hampshire is the only New England state which does not elect a senator at the November polls. Hale will win hands down in Maine; so will Greene in Vermont, but Lodge in Massachusetts and Gerry in Rhode Island will have fights on their hands. McLean will undoubtedly be a candidate to succeed himself in Connecticut, and will probably win out, but as Connecticut is the only New England state that still holds old fashioned conventions instead of primaries, he has not yet been compelled to make an announcement of his candidacy or open his campaign.

LEAGUE TO CONVE

Council of League of Nations Gather for Session in London

LONDON, July 15.—(By the Associated Press) For the first since its organization, the Council of the League of Nations is to meet in London. The sessions, which are expected to last 10 days, will be held in St. James palace beginning Monday.

The Earl of Balfour, Great Britain's acting foreign minister, will preside.

Jugo-Slavia, Austria, Rumania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Albania are sending delegates to defend their interests in the various controversies scheduled to come before the meeting.

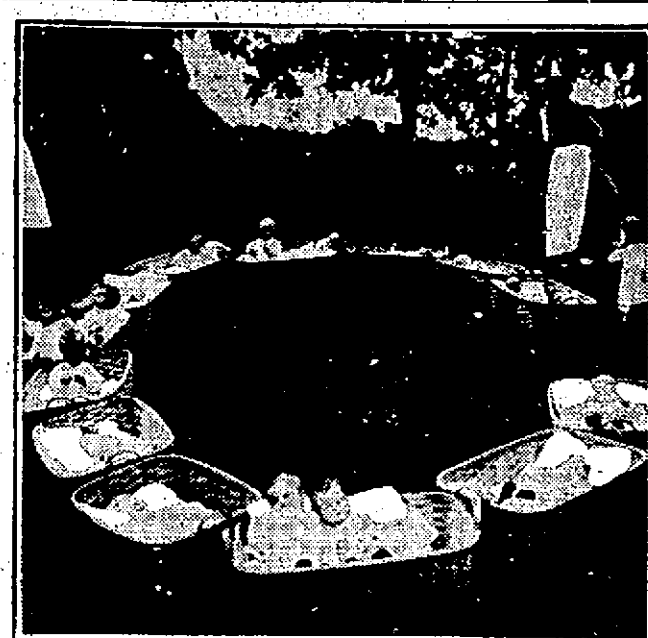

Among the 22 items on the agenda are the reduction of armaments, treatment of minorities, traffic in women and children, the deportations from Asia Minor, the opium traffic, disputes over boundaries and incursions of bandits and discussion of the Palestine, Syrian and other mandates, epidemics and the situation in the eastern Mediterranean.

The council has received two substantial gifts of money from the American Relief administration and the American Red Cross, for the relief and evacuation of the Russian refugees now in Constantinople, and will endeavor to obtain a like amount from the league members.

NO ARRESTS YET IN FRONT STREET RAIDS

No arrests have been made as yet in connection with raids conducted by federal and local officers on Front street last night. They have accused a number of the names as a preliminary to inserting them in warrants, but are checking them up to insure their correctness.

The first visit was paid to the premises of Stanislaw Wojcik at 23 Front street, where the gallon of moonshine, 37 beer bottles, a copying machine and seven empty jugs were confiscated. It is said that 10 cents a glass was the prevailing price at this place. The next visit was at a Front street, whence they departed with three gallons of "moon," three empty jugs and a 20-gallon still, with coll. The stuff is said to be the property of John Salwa, and the still was well concealed under a window, being discovered only by accident. The officers concerned in the raids were Federal Officers Goodridge and Bowers and local officers Aldrich, Trudel, T. J. Dwyer and Noyes.

U. S. Senator Suspected of Bootlegging

MONTPELIER, Vt., July 14.—United States Senator William P. Dillingham while motoring over the Waterbury-Montpelier road today was stopped by customs officers who were searching for bootleggers. Senator Dillingham's only comment on the affair was: "This is the first time I have ever been held up—an interesting experience." The customs officers' activities in searching automobiles in the vicinity yielded 20 cases of liquor during the day.

YOU ARE THE JUDGE!

The citizens of Lowell are at the present time being presented with some unusual propaganda regarding the consumption of an important commodity—Ice Cream.

The Boston Ice Cream Co. wishes to go on record as being opposed to this attempt on the part of certain competitors to control the sale of ice cream in this city.

Such methods are a step backward in modern business progress. Carried a little farther, they may easily harm Lowell's industrial prosperity. They may serve to drive away many firms interested in locating in the City of Lowell.

Our ice cream qualifies as a Lowell-made product. It is manufactured right here in town. For fifteen years we have paid many thousands of dollars in wages to Lowell residents and taxes to the city

Quarter Century Ago

25 Years Wed

From the old Sun:
"A fashionable church wedding took place at the Chestnut Street Free Baptist church last evening, (July 14,) when Miss Elizabeth Gay Morgan, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morgan of 33 C street, a teacher in the Edison school and Mr. Albert Fosdick Grant, eldest son of J. H. Grant, and a member of the firm of J. H. Grant & Co., jewellers, were united in marriage by Rev. H. Lockhard, pastor of the church."

Grant, R.S.C.

The old Sun has a lengthy report of the institution of Clan Grant from which the following is taken:
The Campbells are coming. Heigho, Heigho, rung out the shrill notes of the bagpipes in Central street last night and every man within hearing distance possessed of the blood of Bonnie Scotland threw up all sides to see the cause of the wanted demonstration. The occasion was the institution and installation of the new Clan Grant of the Royal Order of Scotch Chiefs, composed of the brain and brawn of Lowell's Scotch population.

The exercises were held in the Manchester City hall, Rundle building, and began with lodge exercises for the members only. The installing exercises were conducted by the grand officers. The officers installed were: Chief, George Mohr; scribe, J. W. Gregg; chaplain, John Grant; secretary, George E. Parquhar; financial secretary, David Kinghorn; treasurer, William Jewett; benchman, Hugh McPherson; senechal, S. J. Gregg. The members are R. McElroy, George Mohr, J. G. Jackson, David Kinghorn, J. S. Parquhar, William Houston, J. W. Gregg, H. J. Gregg, John Grant, Hugh McPherson, McPherson, J. S. Gregg, Walter Runkle, J. S. Gregg, J. W. Taylor, George Buchanan, Joseph Dempster, Daniel McLaughlin and John McDonald; and James Joseph Hastings was elected an honorary member."

Irregular Weather

In this column last week, I noted the fact that 25 years ago, the first week of July was so hot that several deaths resulted from the heat. Then followed a terrific rain that caused a sudden rise in the river as noted in The Sun as follows: "Never before has the water in the Merrimack been so high on the 15th of July as it is today. Rising eight feet or more over the dam at Pawtucket Falls, the water rushes fiercely down around the river bend, foaming, dashing, roaring wildly in its career over the jagged rocks that rise in the river bed and carrying in its swift current a great volume of drift wood."

The contrasts in the weather of July in that year were somewhat similar to those of June this year. Seldom has June brought such a hot spell and this was followed by a period of heavy rains that caused a flooded river.

Mr. O'Connell

From the old Sun:
"Monahan, V. J. O'Connell, formerly of this city, rector of the American college at Rome, is visiting his old home in this city. He arrived Saturday at Boston on the Servia and after a brief visit to his old pastor, Very Rev. Fr. Byrne, V. G., came to this city. He comes on a vacation and will soon return.

"Mr. O'Connell was the guest of Rev. Fr. Ronan of St. Peter's church yesterday afternoon."

It was through his work as rector of the American college at Rome that Mr. O'Connell, now His Eminence the Cardinal, attracted the attention of the Holy See and thus laid the foundation of his future distinction in the councils of the church. He was always a welcome visitor at St. Peter's, as the late Fr. Ronan took a fatherly interest in three brilliant young clergymen of his parish, the first of whom was Rev. W. H. O'Connell, and the others Rev. Fr. Allen, now bishop of Mobile, Ala., and the third, the late lamented Bishop Garigan, who passed away last year at Sioux City, Ia.

For a Newsboys' Home

In the old Sun is a prominent article setting forth a scheme for establishing a newsboys' home in Lowell devised by the late J. L. Chalfoux. It will be remembered that Mr. Chalfoux annually ran a newsboys' picnic, which was a great event in the lives of the youngsters. They enjoyed a real day's sport and a fine dinner provided through the generosity of Mr. Chalfoux. His plan for raising funds to establish a home was to have a big outing once a year, at which baseball and other games would be played by the newsboys of Lowell against those of Lawrence and Nahua. He would have a charge of 25 cents admission for this general field day and devote the proceeds to the fund for the home. He was confident that the scheme would meet with public favor and that many prominent citizens would assist in making the movement a success.

Unfortunately, Mr. Chalfoux passed away before he had an opportunity to inaugurate this movement and nobody has since taken up the idea nor have the newsboys found anybody to give them an annual picnic. The only substitute for the newsboys' home as proposed by Mr. Chalfoux is the Boys' club on Dutton street, which does good work in its way, but is not in any sense a newsboys' home. The time may come, however, when Mr. Chalfoux's plan will be revived and a home established for these hard-working and plucky little chaps who are found in every part of the city selling the Sun and other newspapers. They deserve kind treatment from the community at large.

THE PRESIDENT AND STRIKES

President Harding has issued his warning against any interference with the transmission of the mails or with interstate commerce. While he has sent out the official order of the government, he has not indicated what action he will take to deal with any disturbance that may occur. It is presumed, however, that the troops will be called to suppress any resort to violence that would interrupt the transportation of the mails. He has indicated that a division between the Interstate Commerce commission and the Railroad Labor board is possible only while affairs are running smoothly, but affirms that during a crisis, the government must act as a unit.

The president endeavors to be fair as between the shop workers and the railroad executives. He holds that the former erred in disregarding the order of the Railroad Labor board and the executives when they farmed out shop work by contract. He holds the decisions of the Railroad Labor board to be legal and binding on both sides, although he does not specifically state that the recent wage decision of that board is entirely fair.

One thing on which he is particularly emphatic is in asserting the indisputable right of every man to work if he so desires, without regard for those who see fit to strike. The right to strike is unquestioned, and that is a great admission on the part of the president in dealing with the railroad strike. In some instances a strike that would cause great suffering and injury to the public has been dealt with criminally or in the same light as the strike of a ship's crew at sea.

The president is determined that the coal strike shall also be settled without much further delay; and it appears that the miners have lost sympathy throughout the country on account of the massacre at Herrin, Ill., and the scandalous neglect of the authorities to make any honest effort to bring the perpetrators to justice. That deplorable tragedy has injured the cause of labor throughout the entire country, not only in the coal mines and on the railroads, but in many other industries entirely remote. The feeling prevails that unless some step be taken to prosecute the authors of the Herrin massacre, other attempts of a similar kind will be made, and that as a result, the right of a man to work, if he sees fit, while others strike, will be impaired by a spate of terrorism. Judging from the president's proclamation, this is one of the things that he is determined to prevent and his course of action in dealing with any outbreak of violence either at the mines or on the railroads will be influenced by one historic precedent and whether the present chief executive has the courage to adopt similar methods.

CRIMINALS AND REFORM

A pair of youthful bank robbers has just been sentenced to hard labor at the Massachusetts reformatory for five years by Judge Louis S. Cox of the superior court. There has been some criticism of the method of disposing of similar cases in some quarters, but none that we can approve of considering the nature of the crime and the perpetrators. In disposing of the pleas of counsel for probation, Judge Cox declared that if bank robbers are to be placed on probation, "we may as well abolish all our laws, retaining perhaps a small penalty for murder."

The Maiden News quotes Judge Cox as saying that he had been told by a man who had been a probation officer for the past 20 years, that the percentage of those saved by probation was just the same now as the day the system was started.

The correctional systems employed in latter-day houses of reformation, have, of course, been improved upon in recent years, but much of the "mush" can still be done away with, as Judge Cox implies in his quoted remarks. In some states the probation system has been very much overdone. Some crime investigators go so far as to assert that there is too much of it today in Massachusetts.

Undoubtedly the primary cause that paralyzes pursuit, capture, conviction and punishment of criminals is the rapid growth of a casual and sentimental attitude among some of our best people. Far too often criminals are called "victims of environment." Then, again, heredity or "bad associations" are set up as being solely to blame for a criminal's plight. The police are often called "brutal" and judges "corrupt," "hard-hearted," etc., and prosecution "unduly harsh."

The truth is, that while the probation system has worked admirably in many cases, hardened criminals do not often come under its benefits because they seek no public sympathy in their predicaments. And a great many times the probationary system has failed because of misplaced confidence of courts. We believe, however, that the extension of the system will work greater benefits in the long run when the habits and personal conditions of unfortunate men and women are thoroughly studied by sympathetic criminologists.

The success of latter-day probation systems is not to be decided by those who pick out a few examples of "failures." More than one so-called "hardened criminal" has returned to the world of men, elevated, purified and cleansed of the stains that covered them when they sank beneath the pressure of unfortunate conditions. It is dangerous to extend the system to hardened criminals or even to first offenders in cases such as that cited by Judge Cox unless there are very exceptional conditions that appeal for leniency. And after convincing promises of real reform. Legal penalties are useless unless they fall with certainty on guilty but their aim should be to reform rather than to wreak official vengeance upon the culprit—except where capital punishment is the penalty.

WAGE READJUSTMENTS

The fact that the Lawrence Mfg. Co. has followed the example of the Massachusetts mills of this city in declaring a readjustment of wages, indicates that the cotton mills are determined to reduce wages generally throughout New England. The fact is that business has been very dull in these mills for a considerable time but we do not believe the remedy lies in slashing wages to the tune of 20 per cent.

It is unfortunate that there is no hope of any compromise through conferences or the influence of the agencies provided for dealing with such conflicts. The Sun has repeatedly suggested a compromise of a 10 per cent. reduction as a practical solution that would probably be accepted by the strikers; but it appears that the manufacturers are unwilling to consider such a proposition. When the wages in textile factories began to increase in 1916, the percentage ranged from 5 to 15. Why not climb down, if we must, by easy stages so as not to shock the public sense of fairness and cause prolonged strife that will paralyze industries and hold thousands in idleness?

Ever since the trouble started the strikers have been ready to arbitrate; but the manufacturers have stood firmly against any resort to the legal tribunals provided for settling labor disputes. The situation is unfortunate for the operatives, the mills and the city generally. The operatives of Lawrence have been on strike for several months and as yet there is no prospect of a settlement despite the fact that the new scale of wages would cut their earnings to a degree that would deprive many of them of the ordinary comforts of life which their former earnings afforded.

THE FENCE BUILDERS

Competent writers with close political affiliations are informing us candidly that the recent meeting of the executive committee of the democratic national committee at the national capitol was one worth attending. While the proceedings were strictly private, it is known that the meeting thoroughly canvassed the national political situation. That the democratic party members are confident that the future is more than ordinarily bright, goes without saying. More than one political prognosticator, even with G.O. P. leanings but minus colored glasses, admits that there is a rather rocky road ahead for the Harding administration.

The minority party leaders believe that the progressive sentiment in the G.O.P. ranks is fast sweeping the country insofar as it affects the republican strongholds. Many leading progressives are now freely saying that Mr. Harding will not be able to secure a re-nomination. In the meantime, the democracy, casting about for likely leaders for the campaign two years ahead, are grooming such men as McAdoo and Underwood, who, according to political observers at the national capitol, appear to be in the lead.

The lineup predicted will be between a radical and a conservative. Whether the G.O.P. leaders will adopt the radical lines, leaving the conservative platform to the opposition, or vice versa, is still a problem. The general discontent noted in G.O.P. circles throughout the middle west is sure to prove a hard problem for the old line leaders to handle. The progressive sentiment is fast approaching a real line-up, indicating a split in the solid G.O.P. phalanx that augurs ill for success in the party's next national campaign.

GRADE CROSSING ACCIDENT

The frightful accident at a grade crossing in Haverhill in which a double line of automobiles was struck by an express train was apparently due to the mistake of the gate tender. The gates had been down to let a freight train pass and in the meantime a crowd of autos had gathered waiting an opportunity to get across. As the last car of the freight had passed, the gates were lifted and the autos dashed forward right in the path of an express train that cut through the line with terrific results. Both gate tender was a man who had lost both legs and naturally not active enough to be placed in such a responsible position. In all probability his mistake caused the accident and the railroad is, therefore, responsible, but that will not restore the dead to life nor help those who were maimed. It seems that the position of gate tender should not be filled by cripples or by men who are not in full control of their faculties. Such accidents are liable to happen however through the uncertainty of the human element or other causes and hence the only effective way to stop them is to abolish the grade crossings.

LA FOLLETTE'S PLAN

In the midst of the government's trouble at Washington, it is to be expected, of course, that Senator La Follette would bring forward some scheme to add to the confusion of the railroad situation. He now declares that he will move for the repeal of the guarantee feature of the Esch-Cummings transportation act and the discharge of the Interstate Commerce commission from further consideration of the Capper bill. He avers that this bill has been before the committee since April, 1921, and that no report has yet been submitted. The danger surrounding this issue is indicated from the fact that Brookhart recently swept town by ranking his chief slogan, the repeal of the Esch-Cummings act. The agricultural bloc is in favor of the repeal and would probably support La Follette's motion for repealing the Capper bill. The issue is surcharged with explosive elements as it might mean the restoration of government operation of the railroads, for which neither the government nor the people stand prepared.

THE WOMAN REFORMER

It seems that many of the women who are coming to the front as candidates have wholly forgotten the fact that we have a written constitution guaranteeing personal liberty within the law. Here is one Dr. Anna Hochfelder running as a candidate for the state senate in New York, who declares that, if elected, she will advocate a law providing that no woman will be permitted to get married in New York state unless she can convince the authorities that she can earn a living. The candidate explains her platform in this respect by saying that no woman ought to marry unless she is in a position to take care of herself and her children in case she loses her husband. As might be expected from a candidate of this stamp, Dr. Hochfelder advocates sex education and organon marriages. It will be interesting to note the extent of this candidate's support in the New York district.

GERMAN MAN-POWER

Lo Troquer, minister of public work in France, draws up plans for a tunnel under the English Channel. His idea is to have Germany do the work and furnish the materials. The completed job would strike $4,000,000,000 off the German indemnity. It is a sensible plan. The bulk of the indemnity will be paid in man-power, or not at all. Germany hasn't the gold. She has the man-power. Gold, after all, is just a mortgage on human labor.

SWAT 'EM

Are flies bothering you this summer? Bacteriologists check up and announce that the house fly is a carrier of the germs of 180 different diseases. The diseases range from typhoid and tuberculosis to hookworm and amoebic dysentery. Flies are the advanced agents of sickness and death. They have been reduced by repeated swatting campaigns. But they multiply quickly when swatting lags. That is why the campaign must be kept up.

THOSE TRAFFIC BEACONS

There is some question as to the safety of these massive traffic beacons when set up in squares where there has never been any traffic officer or any indicator of that kind. The beacon set up at the corner of Andover and High streets resulted in an accident on the first night after its location there when a man and woman on a motorcycle crashed into it with the result that the woman was very seriously injured and both had a narrow escape from death.

No civil enterprise undertaken for a considerable time should receive more sincere consideration than the movement to raise money for the purchase of an athletic field for the high school of an athletic field for the high school. The alumni are especially expected to do all they can to aid this measure as it will reflect credit upon them as the originators of the plan.

CONCERT AT MOODY SCHOOL PLAYGROUND

An interesting entertainment and concert was presented by the children of the Moody school playground yesterday afternoon. Miss Gertrude Lyons is in charge of the grounds and the entertainment was under her supervision. The program is as follows: Costume dance, "In Deep," "The Song of the Lark," "The Dawn," "The Nightingale," "The Rose," "The Lily," "The Violet," "The Daisy," "The Sunflower," "The Poppy," "The Miss Kaplan came to this city about five years ago, coming from Poland. She made her home with a sister, in Lakeview avenue and was employed as a saleslady in the latter's store. Sometime last March she became mentally deranged and as a result was committed to the state hospital at Worcester by the local district court.

were deported as the law states that a person who becomes a public charge within five years after landing can be deported if it can be shown that he has existed prior to this landing and that immigration officials contended that such a case did not exist prior to the young woman's landing. Miss Kaplan was not represented by counsel at the hearing and a deportation warrant was issued, and arrangements were being made for the securing of passports, the date of her sailing to set later.

A short time ago the matter was called to the attention of Lawyer Goldman by a sister of the young woman, who contended that the girl was not a public charge and that she (the sister), could well take care of her. Mr. Goldman went to Washington Wednesday and after consulting the services of Congressman Rogers went to the Immigration office and succeeded in obtaining a stay of the warrant and a new hearing. The date for the new hearing will be

NATIONAL GUARD PROBLEMS ARE DISCUSSED

AYER, July 15.—National guard problems in New England were intensively discussed today, at a conference in Camp Devens attended by Major General William H. Edwards and the adjutants General of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island. The training of guard troops and their respective states or the continuance of the present policy of massing them at Camp Devens, was one of the main questions before the conference for discussion.

Gen. Edwards and staff and the adjutants General in the afternoon were to review a parade of the national guard, regulars and organized reserve troops, in training here.

Gen. Edward L. Logan, commander of the first infantry brigade, commanded the unit, comprising guardsmen from Massachusetts, Vermont, Rhode Island and Connecticut, the 68th and 130th infantry regiments, the 3rd cavalry, 32nd heavy artillery tanks, transporters and reconnaissance of the 94th division.

The parade formed at 10 o'clock. Men gathered here since the 25th A.E.F. division returned from France.

EMBARCADO PROVISION

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The senate today rejected 36 to 22 the provision of the tariff bill proposing to continue the existing dye embargo for one year from the passage of the bill.

Thirteen republicans joined with the solid democratic minority in opposing the provision. They were: Johnson, Capper, Cummins, Hiram, Johnson, Keyser, McCormack, Moses, Nelson,

PAULINE KAPLAN

A short time ago the matter was called to the attention of Lawyer Goldman by a sister of the young woman, who contended that Pauline was not a public charge and that she, (the sister), could well take care of her. Mr. Goldman went to Washington, Wednesday and after consulting the services of Congressman Rogers went to the Immigration office and succeeded in obtaining a stay of the warrant and a new hearing. The date for the new hearing will.

DOINGS OF THE DUFFS

WELL, I'VE SAVED SOME MONEY OUT OF MY ALLOWANCE AND I CAN PUT THAT TOWARD THE FUND.

DO YOU REALIZE THAT IT WILL TAKE ABOUT $300 TO GO ON A VACATION?

BUT I CAN'T AFFORD IT THIS YEAR!

WELL, I GUESS WE WILL NOT—I NEED A CHANGE OF SCENERY AND I'M GOING TO GET IT!

YES, I GUESS WE'LL TAKE IT AT HOME THIS YEAR!

SAY, TOM, WHEN AND WHERE ARE WE GOING ON OUR VACATION THIS SUMMER? HAVE YOU THOUGHT ABOUT IT?

THEN ALL I HAVE TO DO IS TO DIG UP THE OTHER FOUR HUNDRED AND SEVENTY!

I HAVE THIRTY DOLLARS SAVED UP TOWARD IT!

O. M. I. Cadets Will Go to Milligan's Grove — Roll
Call Anxiously Awaited

Although every O.M.I. cadet knows that time flies, it seems to him that next Monday, the day set for departure to the summer camp at Milligan's grove, will never come. Each young man has made careful preparations for this event, and is eagerly awaiting the roll call.

The cadets were organized over fourteen years ago by Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., and this yearly encampment has been the feature of the schedule of events, since the inception of the organization.

The bivouac of the cadets will be carried out just like that of any other military unit. Each young man will carry his equipment, and the commissary will contain enough provisions to last the week. The camp will be laid out in company streets, with the regimental headquarters tent pitched at the head of the first street. Here Fr. Sullivan, Lieut. Col. Horgan, commanding officer, and Instructor Francis Grehan, who have charge of all the activities, will have their headquarters.

The cadets will rise at six o'clock every morning and will be put through a series of setting-up exercises. Breakfast will then be served by Chef Sid McKenzie, and after showing the roll, the cadets will have the roll call, with rehearsal and swimming the most popular. In the early part of the evening there will be roll call, instructions by the chaplain, and vespers. Later there will be community sing and get-togethers in the glow of the camp fires.

The setting-up exercises and the competitive sports will work wonders in the development of the youths. There will be courses in map making and topography that will take care of the mental side.

Some time in the week there will be a sham battle between the two regiments, known as the Reds and the Blues. One regiment will be given the task of defending the camp and the other will attack. This sham battle is always a feature of the camp and the boys enjoy it thoroughly.

A staff of nurses will be on hand to care for the health of the young soldiers and any cases of sickness or injury will be placed in their hands. A regular army hospital will be used to prepare the food and the commissary will be in charge of Sid McKenzie.

WEDDING AT ST. ANNE'S THIS EVENING

At St. Anne's Episcopal church this evening at 7:30 o'clock, Miss Ruth Newcomb Greene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Greene of Lowell, will be united in marriage with Mr. Morgan B. MacDonald of Burlington, N. H. John J. Cullen, assistant rector of St. Anne's, will be the officiating clergyman. The bride's attendants will be Miss Harriet Russell of Albany, Mrs. Edward Holmes of Malden, and the Misses Elizabeth Melia, Patricia Kennedy and Katherine Smith of Lowell. Her cousin, Miss Charlotte Ann Blaney of Springfield, will be her flower girl. The best man will be Mr. Daniel MacDonald, a brother of the bridegroom, and the ushers are to be Messrs. John M. Greene, 2nd, of New York; Robert H. Collier, of Dubuque, Iowa; Ralph Shaw of Los Angeles, and G. Peter Murdoch of New Haven. With the exception of Mr. Greene, the ushers were classmates of the bridegroom at Yale in 1919.

EXAMINATIONS AT HIGH SCHOOL ANNEX

Civil service examinations for the positions of clerks, male and female, carriers, and chauffeur-carriers for the postoffice were held this morning at the high school annex. There were 135 applicants, including six young women, who took the examinations. E. B. Nelson, of the Boston district office, and Timothy J. Sullivan of the local office, were in charge. They were assisted by Thos. Gilman and Eugene Boland.

LITTLE GIRL IS MISSING FROM HOME

Yvonne Forrest, 12 years of age, residing at 110 Cushing street, has been missing from her home since last night according to information received at the police station this morning. When last seen the little girl was wearing a blue and white checked dress, black stockings and white sneakers. She was carrying a small bundle. The report states that the girl is subject to sudden illnesses and has undergone treatment.

TRAINS ALL ON TIME

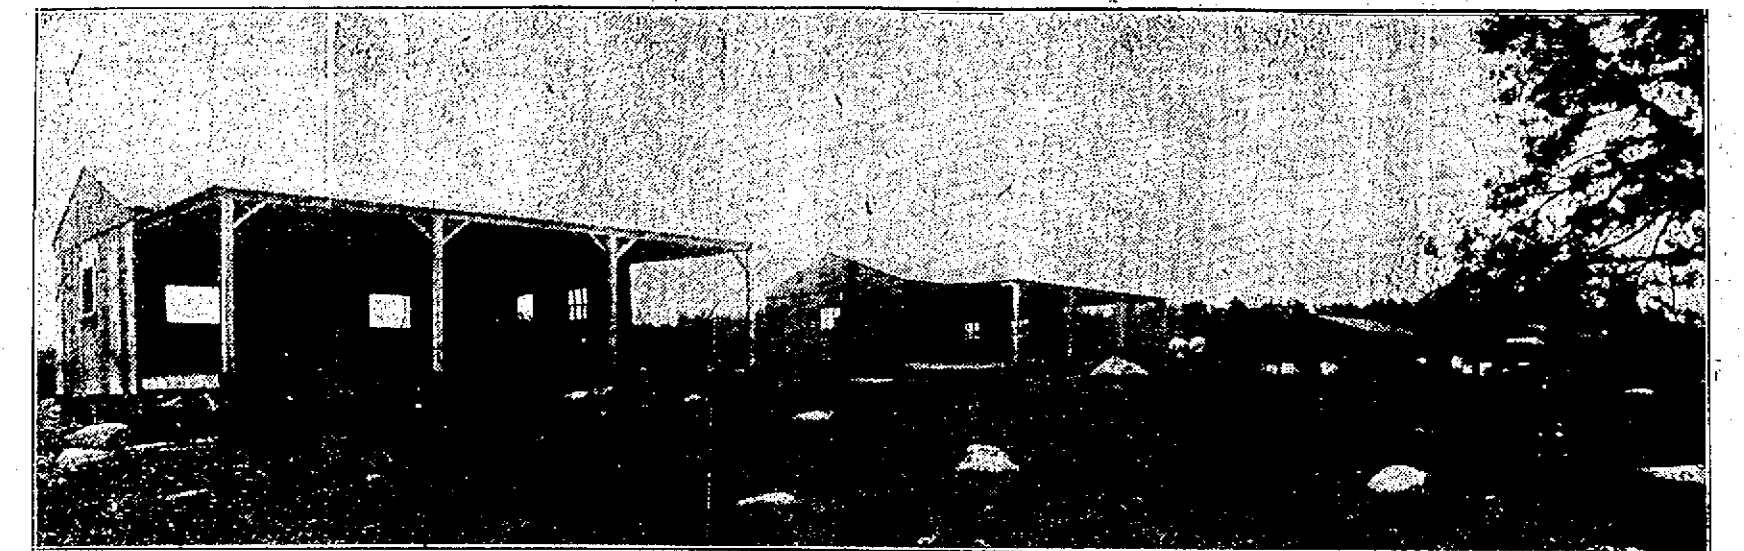

The local office of the Boston and Maine railroad reports that as yet the car-shop strike has made no noticeable inroad on the regular running schedule of freight and passenger trains. Vacationists are being accommodated without delay and in general, everything is up to the standard.

Health Camp For Lowell School Children

On Monday morning next, Lowell's new health camp for children of school age, located on the edge of a pine grove on land off West Meadow road, will open with a maximum enrollment of 50 boys. The camp will be open for five successive weeks, the last three to be given over exclusively for girls, as the first fortnight is exclusively for boys.

The entire layout of the camp, its equipment, general arrangement and comfortable surroundings go to make up an ideal place and while it is an entirely new venture for this city, it is believed that it will work out satisfactorily and produce such splendid results as to establish it as an annual camp during summer months.

This year, however, it is more or less an experimental stage, the camp will be a day-camp only, with the boys and girls enrolled going to and from their homes morning and afternoon. Transportation on special

DEATHS

HURLEY—Joseph F. Hurley, a well known resident of Centralville, and an attendant of St. Michael's church, died yesterday afternoon at the home of his mother, 75 Durant street, after an illness of a few months. He was a well known member of the local Electric Workers union. He was a past president. He also was a member of St. Michael's Holy Name society, and the Matthew Temperance society. He leaves a wife, Mrs. Sarah Hurley, one brother, Edward T. and two sisters, Theresa E. and Kathryn M. Hurley.

FUNERALS

READY—The funeral of Mrs. Winifred C. (Gibney) Ready took place this morning from the home of her parents, 1 Autumn street, at 9 o'clock and was very largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends, many being in attendance from out-of-town. The body was taken to St. Michael's church where at 10 o'clock a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Francis J. Mullin, assisted by Rev. M. G. Gilbride, of St. Mary's church, Collingwood, as it was, and Rev. John J. Shaw, as sub-deacon. Rites within the sanctuary were: James T. McDermott, O.M.I., and Rev. John H. Moriarty, O.M.I., of the Sacred Heart church, Lowell, who read the direction of Mr. Thomas P. Ready, rendered the Gregorian mass, the solemn high mass, and the choir, which was sung by Mrs. Margaret Ready, Mrs. Ella Kelly, Mrs. Thomas P. Ready, and Mrs. John L. Ready. The funeral was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery where the last solemn rites of the Catholic church, the arrangements were in charge of Funeral Director James W. McKenna.

electric cars has been arranged by the board of health, co-operating with the local street railway company and pupils' car tickets will be furnished by the board.

The camp will be open daily except Sunday between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4:45 p. m. Children who attend must meet a nurse of the health department at Green's drug store in Northbrook Square at 3:30 o'clock Monday morning. This starting time is imperative and must be lived up to, in the schedule of the day is to be maintained.

Through the aid of the city department of lands and buildings and the board of election commissioners, five building booths have been erected on the camp site as the nucleus of the equipment. Two of the shacks have been equipped with verandas and will be designated as rest shacks. One booth is equipped with four sanitary, one has been transformed into a dining room and kitchen and one will be used as a storeroom.

Although the camp only will be in operation between the hours above mentioned, it may be that a few children will be selected to remain all the time. The camp program, already laid out, will be strictly followed every day. On Monday each boy will be examined by a physician and properly classified. Every morning, on arrival, luncheon will be served. With that done, the remainder of the forenoon, or until 1:30 o'clock, will be taken up by organized recreation and play, to be supervised by a director from the park department.

A hot dinner will be served at 12:30 and from 1:30 to 3 o'clock will be a rest period. During this hour and a half, the camp will be in absolute quiet and each child will be obliged to completely relax and rest. From 3:30 to 5:50 a talk on the health creed will be given by a nurse, either from the school hygiene or health department. The nurses will visit the camp in rotation for this part of the program. The talk will stress the importance of the proper care of teeth, the value of fresh air and sunlight, good food, bathing and proper clothing. A lunch will be served shortly after 4 o'clock and camp will close at 4:45 o'clock.

Two nurses, a caretaker, a physical instructor, a cook and a physician will be at the camp daily. Dr. Francis A. Finnegan, director of school hygiene, will be in full charge, but physicians of his department, and the health department, as well as Agent Francis J. O'Hare, will give him every assistance possible.

A great many individuals, city departments and business concerns have co-operated heartily in preparing the camp for occupancy. For instance, Farrell & Condon have given splendid gas ranges to the camp and installed the sanitaries, and the Lowell Gas Light Co. did all the necessary piping at a most nominal cost. The Don Marche Co. supplied considerable equipment. The park department and the street department helped in the matter of labor and the camp was erected under the immediate supervision of William Connors, inspector of contagious diseases for the board of health.

In no manner is the idea of the camp fanciful, for many other cities already have similar ones in full swing. Dr. Finnegan is most enthusiastic concerning it and feels sure that it will more than justify the great deal of work that has been necessary in connection with its establishment.

It is situated in an ideal spot, well removed from the life of the city and should prove highly beneficial to the children who attend. More applications have been received than possibly can be cared for and this fact, alone, augurs well for its success.

STRIKE SANCTIONED BY THE TEXTILE COUNCIL

The action of John Hanley, chairman of the strike-committee and president of the Lowell Textile council, in ordering a strike at the Massachusetts mills effective next Monday morning, as a protest against a wage reduction, was sanctioned by the Lowell Textile council at a meeting held last evening.

The council is composed of representatives of the various organizations affiliated with the United Textile Workers of America, and 100 percent of its members were present at the meeting. The delegates of the various unions at their special meetings held earlier in the day were reported and the delegates were instructed to inform all the members of their respective organizations, who are employed at the Massachusetts mills not to report for work next Monday morning.

In the course of the meeting a committee was appointed to work jointly with the special committee of the Trades & Labor council in an investigation of the Garlity-Arnold incident, which occurred in the state aid office at city hall a few days ago, when it is claimed, Sup. Arnold of the department told a legion member to go to work at the Merrimack Manufacturing company, where a strike is on.

Election of Officers—Another important feature of last evening's meeting of the council was the election of officers, which resulted as follows: John Hanley, president; Louis H. Shea, vice president; Alfred Angus, recording secretary and P. Henry Hamilton, financial secretary and treasurer; Austin Kennedy, Annie Odell and Walter McLaughlin, trustees.

It was brought out at the meeting that the loomfixers, weavers, beamers, slasher tenders, ring spinner fixers and doffers and spinners employed at the Massachusetts mills are 35 percent organized, while the Polish Textile union also counts a large number of members in the plant.

The monthly meeting of the New England conference board of the T.W. of A. will be held at Manchester, N. H., tomorrow afternoon and the Lowell delegates who will attend are as follows: John Hanley, Louis H. Shea and Alfred Angus. Lowell Textile council; Dana B. Hart, Slasher Tenders' union; Joseph E. Demery, Loomfixers' union; Alfred Lebel, Ring Spinner Fixers; Annie Reagan, Cotton Weavers; Walter McLaughlin, Polders; Frank Balazs, Polish Textile and Walter G. Roche, Beams.

On Monday morning at 10 o'clock the strike leaders of the various textile centers of New England will hold a meeting in Lawrence and Lowell will be represented at the meeting by John Hanley, Frank Stimpson and Annie Reagan.

LAWRENCE POLICE

Robert Hendry, who escaped recently from the Lawrence jail, where he was serving a two-year term, was taken into custody this morning by Inspector Martin Maher of the local police department.

Inspector Maher was standing at the corner of Central and Prescott streets when he saw the young man walking down Prescott street. Identifying Hendry at once as the man for whom the Lawrence police have instituted a search, he accosted the pair. They stated that they had just come from Boston. Hendry was taken to the station, where he will be held for the Lawrence authorities.
